Ike Blames Communists For Tension

Declares U.S. Must Remain 'Strong And Faithful To Friends'

MANILA (AP) — President Eisenhower today declared that the United States must remain "strong and faithful to its friends" in the face of the Soviet Union's anti-American offensive.

The President, hailed again by thousands of friendly Filipinos after his stupendous welcome Tuesday, assailed international communism as the single most important breeder of world tension.

Eisenhower spoke in a major foreign policy address to a joint session of the Philippine Congress. It was the first in a series he will make during his 10-day tour of the Philippines, Formosa, Okinawa, Japan and Korea.

Summing up anew what America stands for, the President said its actions must make clear that "propaganda pressures, rocket rattling and even open aggression are bound to fail."

Cheers and whistles greeted the President on his arrival in the legislative chamber, which was packed with coatless senators and congressmen in the traditional open-neck shirts that Filipino men wear outside their trousers on even formal occasions. The President wore a brown business suit complete with vest.

Eisenhower warmly praised Filipino nationalism as a powerful force in building close ties with the United States.

"Communist leaders fear constructive nationalism as a mortal foe," he said. "This fear is evident in the continuing efforts of the Communist conspiracy to penetrate nationalist movements, to prevent them, and to pirate them for their own evil objectives.

"They use force and threas of force, subversion and bribery, propaganda and spurious promises. They deny the dignity of men, and have subjected many millions to the execution of master plans dictated in far away places."

Eisenhower never mentioned Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev by name, but with Khrushchev obviously in mind, Eisenhower said that "the principal target" of the current Red propaganda drive is the United States.

"My republic is painted as an imperialistic seeker of limitless power over all the peoples of the world, using them as pawns on the chess board of war, exploiting them and their resources to enrich our own economy, degrading them to a role of beggarly dependence," Eisenhower said.

Eisenhower said communism had forcibly deprived 12 countries of independence in the past 15 years while in the same period 33 "lands that were once subject to Western control have peaceably achieved self-determination."

"The question might be asked: Who are today the colonialists?" said Eisenhower.

"The basic antagonism of the Communist system to anything which it cannot control is the single, most important cause of the tension between the free nations in all their variety, on the one hand, and, on the other, the rigidly controlled Communist bloc."

Dealing again with Filipino-American relations, Eisenhower said:

Two Killed, 300 Hurt In Bloody Fight

Outbreak Is Most Violent So Far In Anti-U.S. Campaign

TOKYO (AP) — Thousnds of howling leftwing students stormed the Japanese Parliament today, overpowered police and occupied buildings in the bloodiest outbreak so far against Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's pro-Western government.

Kishi called a cabinet meeting tonight to deal with the near-insurrection.

Two persons were reported killed and more than 300 were injured in the savage free-for-alls between 10,000 screaming, rock-hurling Marxist students and club-wielding police who tried to quell the demonstrators with fire hoses.

Refraining from the use of tear gas and firearms, they finally gave up attempts to hold off the invaders and allowed the students to enter the grounds almost at will.

The violence broke out shortly after Kishi's government yielded to Socialist pressure and abandoned efforts to gain final ratification of the new U.S.-Japan military treaty in time for President Eisenhower's arrival in Tokyo Sunday.

Kosaku Shinoda, public relations spokesman for Kishi's ruling Liberal Democratic Party, told newsmen the administration would recess Parliament for a "political truce, so that President Eisenhower's visit can be made a success."

More than 1,000 police tried to hold the mob at bay.

"It was tantamount to an insurrection," said Shojiro Kawashima, secretary general of the ruling Liberal-Democrats.

In contrast with previous demonstrations, however, there was little initial expression of opposition to President Eisenhower's visit. The demonstrators carried only a handful of signs demanding cancellation of the visit he is to start Sunday.

The uprising cast grave doubts on the ability of Tokyo metropolitan police to protect the President from harm if similar violence breaks out Sunday.

The students, led by members of the extreme-left Zengakuren Student Federation, hurled chunks of pavement and stones and set fire to a police truck that barred their way. It marked the first time police have retaliated

All 14 Killed When Airliner Crashes Peak

2 Children Among Victims In Alaska Airplane Tragedy

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — An airliner crashed near the peak of 9,646-foot Mt. Gilbert Tuesday, killing all 14 persons aboard.

Among the nine passengers were two children, one only 22 months old, and the wife of a wealthy Alaskan.

The Pacific Northern Airlines Constellation vanished into clouds and drizzle after taking off from Cordova at 6:16 a. m. on the last leg of a flight from Seattle, Wash., to Anchorage.

A search plane spotted the wreckage in late afternoon, about 700 feet from the top of the mountain 60 miles east of here.

An Air Force rescue team reached the wreckage Tuesday night and reported no survivors.

The crash ended 29 years of PNA service in and to Alaska without a passenger fatality.

PNA said at its Seattle headquarters that the mountain was slightly north of the normal Cordova-Achorage flying route.

The airliner had discharged about 50 fishermen and cannery workers at Cordova.

Pair Missing After Fire On Nuclear Sub

HONOLULU (AP) — Two men were unaccounted for after a flash fire aboard the nuclear submarine Sargo at Pearl Harbor, a Navy spokesman said today.

The one-hour blaze Tuesday was put out after the 2,500-ton submarine was half submerged, a Navy spokeman said.

The fire, which broke out in the stern or torpedo room, at no time endangered the submarine, the Navy said.

The torpedo compartment was immediately flooded and the stern half of the ship was submerged shortly after the fire broke out at 5:30 p.m. The submarine was tied alongside the dock.

Cause of the fire was attributed by Navy spokesman to a rupture in the liquid oxygen line near the after torpedo room. The submarine was taking on a supply of liquid oxygen.

The room was immediately sealed off and flooded.

Officially, the Navy said no determination has yet been made of casualties.

But a spokesman said: "There could be two crew members unaccounted for." He added that no determination could be made until water had been pumped from the flooded torpedo chamber.

Neighbors Get Court Lecture After Dispute

Climaxing a hearing on a neighborhood dispute in Jethro, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today laid down a "peace plan" for the little riverfront community in a lecture delivered to a delegation which he lined up in front of his bench — complainant, defendant, witnesses and others.

Mrs. Dorothy Baker of Leonard St. was in court on a charge of "disturbing the peace by obscene, abusive and profane language" allegedly used Monday toward her neighbor, Mrs. Charlesetta Wilson, also of Leonard St.

Testimony showed the argument between the two women flared after their children had been involved in a fight. Then the judge ordered: "Anyone here from Jethro, please stand in front of the bench."

Then came the lecture on "peaceful co-existence" in small residential neighborhoods.

"Kids are kids today, just as they were when I was a boy," the judge told the group. "Five minutes after they fight, they are friends again. The trouble comes when the parents carry it on from there."

Fights and disagreements are only boyish ways of working off energy, the judge commented.

"It's far better that they work off that energy on Leonard St. than by running around town getting into trouble," he added. Dismissing the charge against Mrs. Baker, he said he is certain the neighbors can live together peacefully if they practice tolerance and understanding.

Union Rejects Firm's Offer In Gas Strike

The Ohio Valley Gas Co. attempted Tuesday to end the 6-week-old strike of its union employes in the Martins Ferry-Bellaire area, but its proposal was rejected by the workers.

James Cole, Bellaire company division manager, said the firm offered to extend to May 1, 1961, the expired contract minus a modified union shop provision sought by the union.

Cole said the offer was rejected by the union representatives.

Cole said the company's offer included a provision that would grant the Bellaire union any pertinent contract changes of any settlement reached with either the Steubenville or East Liverpool unions of the company's workers, who also are on strike.

The Martins Ferry - Bellaire area workers, members of Local 436, Utility Workers of America, AFL-CIO, have been on strike since May 5. The Steubenville and East Liverpool men, members of

Rebels In Algeria Promised Voice In Arranging Plebiscite

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle made another conciliatory gesture toward the Algerian nationalist rebels Tuesday night, but it was too early to tell whether his move would lead to a break in the fighting.

First reactions to the President's radio-TV speech were generally favorable—except from the right wingers who want France to maintain her firm hold on the Algerian administration.

De Gaulle reaffirmed his policy of self-determination for Algeria after the fighting ends. He again asked the nationalist leaders to come to Paris to discuss a ceasefire.

He promised that "everybody, yes everybody" will be able to take part in "discussions which will fix the conditions of the referendum, the electoral campaign and the control of the vote."

This has been one of the touchy points with the Algerian nationalist leadership. They have been unwilling to order their troops to stop fighting without assurances they would be able to help set conditions for the self-determination referendum.

The Algerian government in exile issued a statement in Tunis Monday saying "the guarantees of a free vote of the Algerian people cannot be fixed in a unilateral fashion. The guarantees should necessarily be arranged by the two parties to the conflict."

Some formidable differences of opinion still must be overcome. But the first unofficial reaction from the nationalist leaders in Tunis was cautiously favorable.

Woman Held To Grand Jury In Man's Murder

SALEM — Hazel Stice, 41, of Leetonia was bound over to the Mahoning County Grand Jury at a preliminary hearing Tuesday in Youngstown Municipal Court on a charge of second degree murder.

The woman, who pleaded not guilty, is charged with the fatal shooting of William Swesey, Youngstown steelworker, at a hotel at Youngstown June 6. Bond was set at $2,000. She said Swesey had beaten her before the shooting.

Road Bid Received

The Laughlin Excavating Co. of Kenton was the apparent low bidder for widening and rebuilding Carbon Hill Rd. near Unity among offers opened at Columbus Tuesday by the Ohio Highway Department. The firm's bid was $81,678 on the project to be completed by Oct. 31. The state's estimate was $83,300.

River Crests At 14.1 After 4 Days Of Rain

The Ohio River rose today after four days of rain but the Ohio weatherman indicated the showers may be at end by Thursday, at least.

The stream crested at 14.1 feet this morning and became stationary, with no further rise expected. Attendants at the dam lowered the wickets yesterday.

Dam 8 at Newell said another 0.27 inch of rain was measured Tuesday night after 2.19 inches since Sunday. There was a steady shower early today, then a light drizzle.

Cooler temperatures have accompanied the rainy spell but there will be a warming trend tomorrow. The mercury hit 82 yesterday afernoon and the overnight low was 62. Today's high will be 79 to 75 and tonight's low 59 to 55.

Accord In One Walkout

Two Key Missile Firms Are Struck

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two powerful unions struck Lockheed and Douglas, builders and launchers of key United States missiles and satellites, today. Hours later a tentative agreement was announced in the Douglas walkout.

The massive strikes by the International Assn. of Machinists and United Auto Workers hit installations across the country at midnight local times.

But the UAW and Douglas, in a joint statement, announced shortly after 3 a.m. that continuous negotiating sessions had brought a tentative agreement on a new two-year contract covering 22,000 hourly rated employes at Long Beach, Calif., and Tulsa, Okla.

Talks on local issues at Charlotte, N.C., where Douglas also has a plant, continued.

The joint statement said pickets who took their places outside the Tulsa and Long Beach plants early today would be withdrawn.

Terms of the settlement were undisclosed pending membership meetings. The proposal still must be ratified by union members.

The agreement appeared to break the vise-like grip which a series of labor disputes was closing on the United States space and missile program.

Another 10,000 IAM machinists started a strike of several Lockheed aircraft facilities today and promptly set up picket lines.

In separate action, IAM already has picketed Air Force bases for several days where Convair, another of the industry's giants, has Atlas missile facilities.

A meeting of UAW members was set for 4 p.m. today in Long Beach Memorial Stadium. The bargaining committee will recommend unanimously adoption of the pact, UAW and Douglas said.

The strikes at midnight hit factories producing high-priority hardware for the nation's defense armory:

The Army's nuclear-armed Douglas Nike Hercules anti-aircraft missile, now operational and on Nike sites at major U.S. cities.

The Navy's fleet ballistic missile, the submarine-launched Lockheed Polaris, which the Navy says should be operational by the end of the year.

Three Lockheed-built Air Force satellites — the Discoverer research vehicle, the Samos reconnaissance satellite and the missile-launch detection spy, Midas.

Pickets haven't yet closed down the Convair San Diego, Calif., plant building the big Atlas—the nation's only operational intercontinental ballistic missile. But pickets have previously crippled Convair operations at Cape Canaveral, Fla., and Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., where the Atlases are launched.

The new strikes, the first big walkout of the missile-and-jet age aircraft industry, involved 31,500 union men and women.

Additional pickets appeared early today at Vandenberg—this time picketing Lockheed facilities within the giant base.

Others struck at the Navy's nearby Point Arguello missile complex, where Lockheed has facilities.

Lockheed said all missiles and space operations would be open today, despite the strike. Lockheed's aircraft, electronic, servicing and shipbuilding facilities are not affected by the IAM strike.

At Thursday midnight IAM is prepared to call out 11,350 of its members at Douglas' Santa Monica, Calif., plant and 6,750 at Douglas' El Segundo, Calif., plant.

Union talks with Lockheed have been broken off.

The IAM claims the following representation at Lockheed plants:

Sunnyvale and San Francisco Bay area facilities, 6,000 (of 13,500 total employment).

Van Nuys, Calif., 1,500 (of 3,000).

Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., 350 (of 700).

The UAW says it represents the following number of workers at Douglas plants:

Charlotte, N.C., 700 (of 1,500).

Tulsa, Okla., 3,250 (of 4,000).

Deadline Near With Half Of Taxes Collected

LISBON — With the deadline nearing for the collection of the second - half of 1959 real estate taxes, County Treasurer Vincent C. Judge said today that $908,937.65 has been paid so far. This is approximately half of the amount due.

The deadline is Monday and after that a penalty must be added.

The treasurer pointed out that statements are mailed as a courtesy and an aid to the collection of taxes. If a taxpayer does not receive a statement he nevertheless is subject to a penalty under Ohio law if he fails to meet the deadline.

Quick Senate Okay On U.S., Jap Pact Seen

Way Cleared Before Eisenhower Arrives In Tokyo Sunday

WASHINGTON (AP)—The way is clear for quick Senate ratification of the U.S.-Japanese security treaty before President Eisenhower reaches Tokyo on Sunday.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, after just 20 minutes debate, Tuesday approved the treaty unanimously. Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) said he hopes for Senate approval Thursday.

This is the treaty that ignited the huge anti-American riots in Japan after Japanese Premier Nobusuke Kishi pushed it through the Parliament with his Liberal Democratic party majority.

The treaty will be ratified by Japan automatically on Sunday, the day Eisenhower arrives, unless the Japanese Parliament is dissolved or recessed before then. The Socialists advocate dissolving Parliament and putting the treaty issue up to the country's voters in a general election. But Kishi today was reported planning a week's recess for Parliament beginning Thursday, which would postpone the automatic ratification until after the President leaves Japan.

The treaty makes Japan an equal ally of the United States for the next 10 years, with one additional year provided before it can be terminated.

In return for bases and facilities in Japan, the United States is pledged to defend Japan if it is attacked.

The treaty also requires consultation between the two powers on deployment of U.S. troops and weapons in Japan, and before U.S. forces based in Japan can be sent elsewhere in the Far East in the event of war.

The treaty replaces one signed in the depths of Japan's defeat in World War II, which many Japanese felt was one-sided and could involve them in a war without their being consulted about it.

Technician Killed In Titan Rocket Blast

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The Air Force today sought the cause of a small explosion on a Titan missile that caused Cape Canaveral's first missile accident fatality in 10 years.

Joseph G. Sibole, 24, a technician, was killed Tuesday when a tiny explosive charge blew up and ignited a flare package attached to the side of the intercontinental range rocket. Nine other men received minor injuries.

Walter Claims Stories Aided Communists

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa) says newspaper stories on congressional expense accounts "directly played into the Communist hands by smearing the committee on Un-American Acitivities."

Walter, who is chairman of the committee, referred to a series of copyright stories published by the Knight newspapers. Two of the series discussed expense accounts and actions of Walter's committee.

Walter called the stories scurrilous and a "concoction of half truths, untruths, smear and innuendo adorned with adjectives used in lieu of facts."

One of the series of articles portrayed the committee as staging a road show in which the same witness in a number of different cities opened overseas mail bags and pulled out what was called Communist propaganda.

The bags were opened in each case by Irving Fishman, deputy collector of the U.S. Customs Service at New York. Walter said the suggestion that the hearings were a traveling act "is not only untruthful, but its presentation in this vein, after the authors were three times given a full explanation of the facts, is vile."

Ike Blames Communists For Tension

Declares U.S. Must Remain 'Strong And Faithful To Friends'

MANILA (AP) — President Eisenhower today declared that the United States must remain "strong and faithful to its friends" in the face of the Soviet Union's anti-American offensive.

The President, hailed again by thousands of friendly Filipinos after his stupendous welcome Tuesday, assailed international communism as the single most important breeder of world tension.

Eisenhower spoke in a major foreign policy address to a joint session of the Philippine Congress. It was the first in a series he will make during his 10-day tour of the Philippines, Formosa, Okinawa, Japan and Korea.

Summing up anew what America stands for, the President said its actions must make clear that "propaganda pressures, rocket rattling and even open aggression are bound to fail."

Two Killed, 300 Hurt In Bloody Fight

Outbreak Is Most Violent So Far In Anti-U.S. Campaign

TOKYO (AP) — Thousnds of howling leftwing students stormed the Japanese Parliament today, overpowered police and occupied buildings in the bloodiest outbreak so far against Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's pro-Western government.

Kishi called a cabinet meeting tonight to deal with the near-insurrection.

Two persons were reported killed and more than 300 were injured in the savage free-for-alls between 10,000 screaming, rock-hurling Marxist students and club-wielding police who tried to quell the demonstrators with fire hoses.

Refraining from the use of tear gas and firearms, they finally gave up attempts to hold off the invaders and allowed the students to enter the grounds almost at will.

The violence broke out shortly after Kishi's government yielded to Socialist pressure and abandoned efforts to gain final ratification of the new U.S.-Japan military treaty in time for President Eisenhower's arrival in Tokyo Sunday.

All 14 Killed When Airliner Crashes Peak

2 Children Among Victims In Alaska Airplane Tragedy

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — An airliner crashed near the peak of 9,646-foot Mt. Gilbert Tuesday, killing all 14 persons aboard.

Among the nine passengers were two children, one only 22 months old, and the wife of a wealthy Alaskan.

The Pacific Northern Airlines Constellation vanished into clouds and drizzle after taking off from Cordova at 6:16 a. m. on the last leg of a flight from Seattle, Wash., to Anchorage.

A search plane spotted the wreckage in late afternoon, about 700 feet from the top of the mountain 60 miles east of here.

An Air Force rescue team reached the wreckage Tuesday night and reported no survivors.

The crash ended 29 years of PNA service in and to Alaska without a passenger fatality.

PNA said at its Seattle headquarters that the mountain was slightly north of the normal Cordova-Achorage flying route.

The airliner had discharged about 50 fishermen and cannery workers at Cordova.

Pair Missing After Fire On Nuclear Sub

HONOLULU (AP) — Two men were unaccounted for after a flash fire aboard the nuclear submarine Sargo at Pearl Harbor, a Navy spokesman said today.

The one-hour blaze Tuesday was put out after the 2,500-ton submarine was half submerged, a Navy spokeman said.

The fire, which broke out in the stern or torpedo room, at no time endangered the submarine, the Navy said.

The torpedo compartment was immediately flooded and the stern half of the ship was submerged shortly after the fire broke out at 5:30 p.m. The submarine was tied alongside the dock.

Cause of the fire was attributed by Navy spokesman to a rupture in the liquid oxygen line near the after torpedo room. The submarine was taking on a supply of liquid oxygen.

The room was immediately sealed off and flooded.

Officially, the Navy said no determination has yet been made of casualties.

But a spokesman said: "There could be two crew members unaccounted for." He added that no determination could be made until water had been pumped from the flooded torpedo chamber.

Neighbors Get Court Lecture After Dispute

Climaxing a hearing on a neighborhood dispute in Jethro, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today laid down a "peace plan" for the little riverfront community in a lecture delivered to a delegation which he lined up in front of his bench — complainant, defendant, witnesses and others.

Mrs. Dorothy Baker of Leonard St. was in court on a charge of "disturbing the peace by obscene, abusive and profane language" allegedly used Monday toward her neighbor, Mrs. Charlesetta Wilson, also of Leonard St.

Testimony showed the argument between the two women flared after their children had been involved in a fight. Then the judge ordered: "Anyone here from Jethro, please stand in front of the bench."

Then came the lecture on "peaceful co-existence" in small residential neighborhoods.

"Kids are kids today, just as they were when I was a boy," the judge told the group. "Five minutes after they fight, they are friends again. The trouble comes when the parents carry it on from there."

Fights and disagreements are only boyish ways of working off energy, the judge commented.

"It's far better that they work off that energy on Leonard St. than by running around town getting into trouble," he added. Dismissing the charge against Mrs. Baker, he said he is certain the neighbors can live together peacefully if they practice tolerance and understanding.

Union Rejects Firm's Offer In Gas Strike

The Ohio Valley Gas Co. attempted Tuesday to end the 6-week-old strike of its union employes in the Martins Ferry-Bellaire area, but its proposal was rejected by the workers.

Cole said the offer was rejected by the union representatives.

Cole said the company's offer included a provision that would grant the Bellaire union any pertinent contract changes of any settlement reached with either the Steubenville or East Liverpool unions of the company's workers, who also are on strike.

Rebels In Algeria Promised Voice In Arranging Plebiscite

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle made another conciliatory gesture toward the Algerian nationalist rebels Tuesday night, but it was too early to tell whether his move would lead to a break in the fighting.

First reactions to the President's radio-TV speech were generally favorable—except from the right wingers who want France to maintain her firm hold on the Algerian administration.

De Gaulle reaffirmed his policy of self-determination for Algeria after the fighting ends. He again asked the nationalist leaders to come to Paris to discuss a cease-fire.

He promised that "everybody, yes everybody" will be able to take part in "discussions which will fix the conditions of the referendum, the electoral campaign and the control of the vote."

This has been one of the touchy points with the Algerian nationalist leadership. They have been unwilling to order their troops to stop fighting without assurances they would be able to help set conditions for the self-determination referendum.

The Algerian government in exile issued a statement in Tunis Monday saying "the guarantees of a free vote of the Algerian people cannot be fixed in a unilateral fashion. The guarantees should necessarily be arranged by the two parties to the conflict."

Some formidable differences of opinion still must be overcome. But the first unoffcial reaction from the nationalist leaders in Tunis was cautiously favorable.

Accord In One Walkout

Two Key Missile Firms Are Struck

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two powerful unions struck Lockheed and Douglas, builders and launchers of key United States missiles and satellites, today. Hours later a tentative agreement was announced in the Douglas walkout.

The massive strikes by the International Assn. of Machinists and United Auto Workers hit installations across the country at midnight local times.

But the UAW and Douglas, in a joint statement, announced shortly after 3 a.m. that continuous negotiating sessions had brought a tentative agreement on a new two-year contract covering 22,000 hourly rated employes at Long Beach, Calif., and Tulsa, Okla.

Talks on local issues at Charlotte, N.C., where Douglas also has a plant, continued.

The joint statement said pickets who took their places outside the Tulsa and Long Beach plants early today would be withdrawn.

Terms of the settlement were undisclosed pending membership meetings. The proposal still must be ratified by union members.

The agreement appeared to break the vise-like grip which a series of labor disputes was closing on the United States space and missile program.

Another 10,000 IAM machinists started a strike of several Lockheed aircraft facilities today and promptly set up picket lines.

In separate action, IAM already has picketed Air Force bases for several days where Convair, another of the industry's giants, has Atlas missile facilities.

A meeting of UAW members was set for 4 p.m. today in Long Beach Memorial Stadium. The bargaining committee will recommend unanimously adoption of the pact, UAW and Douglas said.

The strikes at midnight hit factories producing high-priority hardware for the nation's defense armory:

The Army's nuclear-armed Douglas Nike Hercules anti-aircraft missile, now operational and on Nike sites at major U.S. cities.

The Navy's fleet ballistic missile, the submarine-launched Lockheed Polaris, which the Navy says should be operational by the end of the year.

Three Lockheed-built Air Force satellites — the Discoverer research vehicle, the Samos reconnaissance satellite and the missile-launch detection spy, Midas.

Pickets haven't yet closed down the Convair San Diego, Calif., plant building the big Atlas—the nation's only operational intercontinental ballistic missile. But pickets have previously crippled Convair operations at Cape Canaveral, Fla., and Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., where the Atlases are launched.

The new strikes, the first big walkout of the missile-and-jet age aircraft industry, involved 31,500 union men and women.

Additional pickets appeared early today at Vandenberg—this time picketing Lockheed facilities within the giant base.

Others struck at the Navy's nearby Point Arguello missile complex, where Lockheed has facilities.

Lockheed said all missiles and space operations would be open today, despite the strike. Lockheed's aircraft, electronic, servicing and shipbuilding facilities are not affected by the IAM strike.

At Thursday midnight IAM is prepared to call out 11,350 of its members at Douglas' Santa Monica, Calif., plant and 6,750 at Douglas' El Segundo, Calif., plant.

Union talks with Lockheed have been broken off.

The IAM claims the following representation at Lockheed plants:

Sunnyvale and San Francisco Bay area facilities, 6,000 (of 13,500 total employment).

Van Nuys, Calif., 1,500 (of 3,000).

Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., 350 (of 700).

The UAW says it represents the following number of workers at Douglas plants:

Charlotte, N.C., 700 (of 1,500).

Tulsa, Okla., 3,250 (of 4,000).

The treasurer pointed out that statements are mailed as a courtesy and an aid to the collection of taxes. If a taxpayer does not receive a statement he nevertheless is subject to a penalty under Ohio law if he fails to meet the deadline.

Quick Senate Okay On U.S., Jap Pact Seen

Way Cleared Before Eisenhower Arrives In Tokyo Sunday

WASHINGTON (AP)—The way is clear for quick Senate ratification of the U.S.-Japanese security treaty before President Eisenhower reaches Tokyo on Sunday.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, after just 20 minutes debate, Tuesday approved the treaty unanimously. Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) said he hopes for Senate approval Thursday.

This is the treaty that ignited the huge anti-American riots in Japan after Japanese Premier Nobusuke Kishi pushed it through the Parliament with his Liberal Democratic party majority.

The treaty will be ratified by Japan automatically on Sunday, the day Eisenhower arrives, unless the Japanese Parliament is dissolved or recessed before then. The Socialists advocate dissolving Parliament and putting the treaty issue up to the country's voters in a general election. But Kishi today was reported planning a week's recess for Parliament beginning Thursday, which would postpone the automatic ratification until after the President leaves Japan.

The treaty makes Japan an equal ally of the United States for the next 10 years, with one additional year provided before it can be terminated.

In return for bases and facilities in Japan, the United States is pledged to defend Japan if it is attacked.

The treaty also requires consultation between the two powers on deployment of U.S. troops and weapons in Japan, and before U.S. forces based in Japan can be sent elsewhere in the Far East in the event of war.

The treaty replaces one signed in the depths of Japan's defeat in World War II, which many Japanese felt was one-sided and could involve them in a war without their being consulted about it.

Technician Killed In Titan Rocket Blast

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The Air Force today sought the cause of a small explosion on a Titan missile that caused Cape Canaveral's first missile accident fatality in 10 years.

Joseph G. Sibole, 24, a technician, was killed Tuesday when a tiny explosive charge blew up and ignited a flare package attached to the side of the intercontinental range rocket. Nine other men received minor injuries.

Walter Claims Stories Aided Communists

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa) says newspaper stories on congressional expense accounts "directly played into the Communist hands by smearing the committee on Un-American Acitivities."

Walter, who is chairman of the committee, referred to a series of copyright stories published by the Knight newspapers. Two of the series discussed expense accounts and actions of Walter's committee.

Walter called the stories scurrilous and a "concoction of half truths, untruths, smear and innuendo adorned with adjectives used in lieu of facts."

One of the series of articles portrayed the committee as staging a road show in which the same witness in a number of different cities opened overseas mail bags and pulled out what was called Communist propaganda.

The bags were opened in each case by Irving Fishman, deputy collector of the U.S. Customs Service at New York. Walter said the suggestion that the hearings were a traveling act "is not only untruthful, but its presentation in this vein, after the authors were three times given a full explanation of the facts, is vile."

Johnson And Nixon Win Support At Conventions

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) and Vice President Richard M. Nixon won overwhelming support for president at their party's state conventions Tuesday.

Democrats meeting in Austin gave the Senate majority leader complete control of Texas' 61 votes at their national convention in Los Angeles July 11-15.

The Texas Republicans meeting in San Antonio pledged their 54 votes to Nixon for president and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona for vice president at the GOP convention in Chicago July 24-27.

Watch out for Massachusetts, Johnson warned his delegation to the convention. He did not mention Massachusetts Sen. John F. Kennedy, his chief rival for the nomination, but delegates pledged to back him to the hilt knew what Johnson meant.

"Massachusetts will have 82 delegates trying to outrun us and outbluff us," Johnson told the delegates pledged to stick with him at Los Angeles until he releases them.

Johnson won control of the convention by a whopping 2,252-40 vote margin. An expected major walkout flopped and an anticipated rump convention dissolved in defeat.

Mrs. R. D. Randolph, Democratic national committeewoman, who is a Johnson foe, was replaced by Mrs. H. H. Weinert of Seguin.

Backers of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller voted to support Nixon.

Johnson And Nixon Win Support At Conventions

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) and Vice President Richard M. Nixon won overwhelming support for president at their party's state conventions Tuesday.

Democrats meeting in Austin gave the Senate majority leader complete control of Texas' 61 votes at their national convention in Los Angeles July 11-15.

The Texas Republicans meeting in San Antonio pledged their 54 votes to Nixon for president and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona for vice president at the GOP convention in Chicago July 24-27.

Watch out for Massachusetts, Johnson warned his delegation to the convention. He did not mention Massachusetts Sen. John F. Kennedy, his chief rival for the nomination, but delegates pledged to back him to the hilt knew what Johnson meant.

"Massachusetts will have 82 delegates trying to outrun us and outbluff us," Johnson told the delegates pledged to stick with him at Los Angeles until he releases them.

Johnson won control of the convention by a whopping 2,252-40 vote margin. An expected major walkout flopped and an anticipated rump convention dissolved in defeat.

Mrs. R. D. Randolph, Democratic national committeewoman, who is a Johnson foe, was replaced by Mrs. H. H. Weinert of Seguin.

Backers of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller voted to support Nixon.

Sen. Kennedy's Sloganeering

Sen. John F. Kennedy charged in his campaign speech on the Senate floor Tuesday that the Paris summit meeting would have collapsed even without the U2 incident because President Eisenhower and his aides went to it with "obsolete policies of meaningless slogans."

Yet a careful look at Sen. Kennedy's own proposals shows that his demand for "fresh ideas" is really only a slogan itself.

THE CHIEF TOPICS slated for discussion in the summit talks were the Berlin situation and disarmament.

What "fresh ideas" would Sen. Kennedy have put forth? To yield to Nikita Khrushchev's demand that the Allies pull out of West Berlin would so betray the West German people as to make Munich of 1938 look like a Sunday school picnic. To yield to the Kremlin's terms for disarmament would be the ultimate in national idiocy.

It is conceded generally that Premier Khrushchev had decided long before the U2 incident to torpedo the summit conference simply because he realized his sweetness-and-light act had failed to con the Allies into relaxing their well-founded doubts about his ulterior motives.

To go back further, it was this sort of experience with the Kremlin in the past that led President Eisenhower to be reluctant all along to go to another summit meeting. He finally agreed only because he felt compelled, in the interests of peace, to find out whether the Russians were more ready than previously to back up their pretty talk with concrete deeds.

On this basis, he probably would be the first to agree with Sen. Kennedy that "there was no real success which the summit could have achieved."

ON OTHER POINTS, Sen. Kennedy said the United States must build its military strength with new weapons to give it the greatest nuclear striking force in the world. Aside from the apparent contradiction this statement makes to his "fresh ideas" demand, for what does Sen. Kennedy think we are spending 41 billion dollars a year?

He said the nation must "regain" its ability to intervene in any limited war anywhere in the world. He failed to explain just what situation proved we have lost that ability.

He said we must "rebuild" NATO into a viable and consolidated force. He failed to point out that what point the alliance ceased to be that and ignored the fact that our partners in NATO also have a voice in any changes that are made in it.

He said the foreign aid program must be revamped to provide long-term commitments to help feed and give economic aid to underdeveloped countries. He apparently forgot that the Congress of which he is a member has repeatedly rejected administration proposals to effect long-term agreements.

HE SAID our Mideast policy must be changed "to hasten the inevitable Arab acceptance of the permanence of Israel." He apparently overlooked the fact that the Truman and Eisenhower administrations, plus other world powers, plus United Nations bodies, plus private relief organizations, have tried to do that without success. What further action would he take that would not open the United States to justfied charges of imperialism and interference with the local policies of the Arab states?

He said Latin American nations must be made full partners in Western Hemisphere development. He apparently forgot that the Eisenhower administration has concentrated as much effort on this objective as any other in history.

He charged that our China policy "has failed dismally to move toward its principal objective of weakening Communist rule in the mainland," but offered only the suggestion that the present policy of nonrecognition be continued until Peiping shows a genuine change in its belligerent attitude.

If, as reported, Sen. Kennedy is trying to prove to fellow Democrats as well as Republicans that he is as mature as any other candidate in his approach to foreign affairs, he will have to submit more evidence than his Senate speech.

It contained a lot of slogans, but no fresh ideas.

These Election-Year Congresses

What is it about an election-year Congress that makes editoral writers, political pundits and other public commentators refer to it in snide terms denoting almost total faithlessness?

There are several things, but one to be dwelt upon at the moment is the lackadaisical approach to work when there is not much time to do it in.

For instance, after 5½ months of leisurely efforts, the present Congress finds itself with most of its really important work yet to be done and a deadline for adjournment coming up in less than a month. The Democratic National Convention opens July 11 and it would be unthinkable for the Democrats who control Congress to be absent.

WHAT HAS to be done, of course, is its turn on the heat and step up the pace, working longer hours, cutting down the length of weekend recesses and grinding out bills at a faster clip.

This means a lot of busness is going to be left unfinished because it cannot all be done in the time remaining. And what will be done — the "must" legislation such as appropriations bills and politically potent proposals — will not get the attention it needs.

There has been some talk, as there is in every big election year, of simply recessing before the conventions and returning to Capitol Hill after they are over. This, however, is an impractical suggestion, because most of the House members and about a third of the Senate members have to get back home to run for re-election. If they were forced to conduct their campaigns from the floors of the congressional chambers, politics would interfere with the legislation even more than it does at other times.

THERE HAS BEEN some other talk that Congress might return after the November elections to complete this year's work. That suggestion is even more impractical than the first because some of the legislators then would be lame ducks and the others would be reluctant to take any definitive action before the new president has a chance present his program.

Obviously, there is not much that can be done about saving this session from too much last-minute rush. What can be done about it in the future?

Probably nothing. It is just one of the characteristics of Congress' way of doing business, and, politics being what it is, no change appears likely.

Which means that editorial writers, political pundits and other public commentators should keep their snide remarks about election-year Congresses on file for future reference.

Dangerous Disorder

A traffic problem, peculiar to the out-of-doors season, is the parking congestion at roadside business places such as fruit stands and ice cream stores.

St. Clair Township trustees have had their attention called to such a situation at the intersection of Route 170 and the Smiths Ferry-Calcutta Rd. at Calcutta where parked autos often block part of a lane of the road or obsecure motorists' view of the intersection approach.

Any business depending upon motorists for trade should provide adequate and safe parking. Yet there are service stations and restaurants in this area where exits from the grounds have signs or hedges preventing a proper view of the roadway, or which offer parking that is a hazard to passing traffic.

At other sites, motorists fail to properly utilize ample parking areas, creating potential danger and disorder.

But the primary responsibility for safe and efficient service rests with the business operator, and there are a number who should re-arrange parking facilities before serious injury results.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Banks now offer to finance plasure boats, with a small down payment and long-term installments. We went in to get one on our new cruiser. "Welcome aboard," we said. "Aboard what?" asked the banker. "OUR cruiser" we replied. "The one WE are buying together."

He didn't seem to understand the plural so we explained, "I'll be in command of the yacht but you will have the financial rights." "Oh, you have been reading our advertisements about financing boats so seasickness will be brought within the reach of all!" he said.

He asked what kind of a yacht we had. "Nothing much. Just a 38-foot twin-screw job with flying bridge, sea telephone and built-in cocktail shakers. I'm sure the bank will like it," we said.

"This is a conservative bank," said the man, "and the color is important. We lean to plain white and dull gray." We told him that if he would give us the money we would paint the yacht his way.

"How much help do you desire?" he asked. "The boat cost $26,500, with batteries, and bilge-pump thrown in. How nautical is your generosity?" we replied.

"This is business, not generosity, even if my smile gives a contrary impression. We lead all other banks in our desire to make it easy for you to approach yacht club floats without worries and fly code flags without feeling you are signaling for help," he said. Here the banker took out two yachting caps, handing one to us and putting the other on his own head.

"Dual controls. One for you and one for me," he explained. It seemed reasonable.

ESPIONAGE IS DIRTY and he would never allow it, says Harry Truman. Pearl Harbors, anyone? Harry makes some curious cracks and in saying he would never stand for spies in an hour or peril does he put himself above George Washington, Abe Lincoln, Nathan Hale and all the presidents and military heroes of history?

Russia's Moiseyev Dancers are coming back to America in a cultural exchange. A little culture in between denunciations, threats and vilifications isn't bad, we suppose, if you take it in an armored vest and keep your ear alert for possible cries of "We will bury you, ya bums!"

Labor Ponders 'Rocky's' Stand

By Victor Riesel

NEW YORK

There was a farewell gathering aboard the outward bound liner SS United States last Thursday noon. Labor leaders were bidding good-by to their chief, George Meany and talking of Nelson A. Rockefeller's blast at Richard Nixon.

Victor Riesel

As they walked down Pier 86, one chap remarked that it seemed to him that the governor had spoken as bluntly to the House of Labor as he had to the White House.

Gov. Rockefeller's recent talks have had in them a little noticed, little discussed labor policy which has surprised the union chiefs who had expected to be wooed instead of warned.

Some of the labor men had been with the governor in the bucolic relaxation of Cooperstown, N. Y., the previous week.

One section of Mr. Rockefeller's speech there made its impact only after the attack on Nixon.

Nelson Rockefeller asserted the nation could not afford a constantly shortening work week.

THIS IS HOW he said it:

"It is clear that in this period, as we have been doing with regularity over at least 50 years . . . we chose to forego an important part of the increased (gross national) product we could have obtained, in order to achieve increased leisure. We did this by shortening the work week and increasing vacation time. This has been a genuine social gain. It represents a valid and defensible choice. But it is a choice.

"Obviously we could not go on indefinitely cutting down work hours at the rate of about 12½ hours per year without reaching a point of diminishing returns.

"If there were a sufficiently broad acceptance of national purpose, a full realization of the seriousness of the challenges we face, I think that the American public might agree on a moratorium on increased leisure for a period—or a least to temper appreciably the downtrend that has prevailed."

It also appeared to the labor leaders that Rockefeller wanted a longer moratorium on such strikes as last year's national steel stoppage and this week's missile base walkout.

In his attack on Nixon, the governor reiterated his belief in collective bargaining, but added:

"Yet I believe the President should be given discretionary authority to use compulsory arbitration if an economic conflict reaches the point of clearly endangering the national welfare, and if all honest attempts at collective bargaining, mediation and arbitration have been exhausted.

ROCKEFELLER did not spell out his plan. But what he believes specificially is this:

First, mediation should be pursued "to the ultimate practical limit." Then the Federal Mediation Board should request a fact-finding board.

If this isn't heeded within "a limited time," the board should be empowered to recommend a settlement.

If the settlement is not accepted, the president should have the power to ask for an injunction to end the strike and appoint an arbitrator "charged with settling the dispute." The arbitrator's decision would be final.

The governor and his colleagues believe that such a procedure should have been used to end the 116-day steel strike.

That's what he meant when he said here last Thursday that a "surrender to forces of inflation that marked the long delayed settlement of the steel strike" could have been avoided.

Steel Union leaders as well as the industry have defended their pact as non-inflationary.

In his criticism of Nixon, the governor appears to take on the steel industry too, for he charges that they plan to increase prices after the election by one billion dollars annually.

To round out his labor policy, Rockefeller has also consistently demanded the end of featherbedding and all other "restrictive practices by labor or management."

He came out against tariff and quota protection which he called business subsidies.

The union leaders, delighted to observe the Rockefeller-Nixon feud, were not so certain, on reexamination, that they weren't caught in the middle.

Rockefeller's Policies

By Raymond Moley

Two interviews on television on Sunday failed to make two of the vital points concerning Gov. Rockefeller's attack upon President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon: They failed to bring out the fact that the vice presdent has already made his position clear on all of the 10 points on which Rockefeller bases his policies; and they failed to show how closely the Rockefeller program resembles that advocated by at least three of the current Democratic candidates for the nomination.

I have great admiration for Lawrence Spivak's "Meet the Press" program. The panel on Sunday was excellent—honest, straightforward, informed. But there was a time limit, and Rockefeller was loquacious.

He filled in valuable time with generalities.

The panel failed to bring out that on every one of the 10 points in the Rockefeller "platform," Nixon has already made his position clear.

Also, except for one question, "What distinguishes you from a Democrat?"—which Rockefeller answered with mere generalities—there was no development point by point of the fact that his "10 points" are almost precisely what three of the Democratic candidates have been saying for months.

I have no admiration for the Susskind "Open End" program. The inquisitor is a showman who like most of his profession, follows a leftist line without knowing much about the reasons why.

ROCKEFELLER was thus permitted to establish his erroneous, not to say false, assumption that Nixon has not made his position clear on every one of the fundamental issues upon which his campaign will be based.

On defense and foreign affairs he stands firmly with the President, with the addition of his own convictions about the toughness and rigidity of the Communist position on every one of the points raised by Rockefeller on the domestic front.

Two and a half months ago, as a reporter and commentator I addressed a letter to Nixon saying that it seemed to be a good time to state his position on domestic issues, and in reply he invited me to go over the whole field in a personal interview.

I accepted and delineated his stand in three issues of Newsweek. On the basis of that, let us compare the 10 points of Rockefeller with Nixon's position.

As I have indicated, his position on foreign affairs and defense is that of the President. On domestic issues the comparisons and contrasts are these:

1. Basic in the entire Rockefeller-Democratic economic philosophy is the need that, by planning and stimulating the economy by public works and welfare expenditures by the federal government, the rate of growth of the gross national product should be increased to 5 or 6 per cent from its present level of about 3 per cent.

Nixon rejects this in toto. He would, by tax revision and by protecting the freedom of the economy, permit wider opportunity, confidence, and competition to provide natural growth.

2. Rockefeller subscribes to the Forand principle, which would tie health aid for the elderly to social security, with increased social security taxes.

Nixon rejects this and would provide aid to those who need it on a voluntary basis.

3. On school aid, Rockefeller would provide federal aid for construction, with some money for scholarships.

Nixon would pinpoint aid for construction only. Essentially, there is no difference here.

4. On labor, Nixon would sustain the Taft-Hartley and Landrum-Griffin Acts and build upon them. He opposes compulsory arbitration.

Rockefeller is for compulsory arbitration.

NO CONCLUSION can be reached except that Rockefeller would have the Republican party and its candidate agree with him or face defeat in November.

Yes, we will support the party, he says but apparently with great misgivings about its success. That would open the way for him in 1964.

Neither Nixon nor his party can accept such a program as Rockefeller's since it would be a virtual repudiation of the President's record.

Rockefeller's Point

By David Lawrence

Governor Shows Party Policy Problem

After listening and watching for two hours on Sunday night a television program in which Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York answered all kinds of provocative questions, this writer is convinced of the sincerity, earnestness and high purpose of the man who startled the country last week by his challenge to Vice President Nixon.

David Lawrence

Granted that it's too late for the Republicans to nominate anybody but the vice president — and, indeed, judged by political standards, Mr. Nixon is the man they are in duty bound to choose — the fact remains that Gov. Rockefeller unwittingly made a good argument for some other system of choosing party nominees and making party policy than the one in vogue.

In fact, Gov. Rockefeller was advancing a theory which constituted the most significant aspect of his television talk.

When all pretense and hypocrisy are thrust aside, it must be conceded that the present system of forming party policy or selecting the best candidate needs revision.

Indeed, the whole structure of Government has grown so large that in many of the answers that Gov. Rockefeller made he reflected to some extent the impatience of the public with political habits as they relate to government in these days of crisis.

What Gov. Rockefeller was trying to say, in effect, was that he favors support not for who is right but for what is right. But it is political heresy today to say that anything the opposte party stands for is right, just as it is unorthodox to say that one's own candidate may be wrong on particular issues.

THE TRADITION is that before a national convention there can be rival candidates expressing different views but that, once a candidate is chosen, the party members must rally behind him.

Gov. Rockefeller is ready to support Vice President Nixon after his nomination but he thinks that between now and convention time policies can be shaped with respect to the future, and then a united party can go before the electorate.

This, of course, is not a practical viewpoint. What Mr. Rockefeller is doing today, he might better have done six months ago.

Since he apparently has cast aside consideration of any effects his one-man crusade may have on his own political future, the New York governor is of the opinion that a debate on the issues and a clarification of the Republican position before the convention would help Mr. Nixon to win.

Much of the criticism directed toward the administration, however, arises from changes in the circumstances of world affairs themselves.

Neiter Mr. Nixon nor President Eisenhower can be held responsible for the changed situation resulting from Nikita Khrushchev's erratic behavior. Hindsight is always better than foresight.

JUDGED ABSTRACTLY, Gov. Rockefeller is fighting in a good cause—for a different way of making party policy and choosing candidates but, as has often been said, "it's a condition and not a theory" that confronts the Republican party today.

One factor is the manner in which the opposition party naturally takes advantage of any dissension.

Perhaps the real trouble is that the vast majority of the voters do not analyze the issues critically, anyway, and that generalities do influence elections — as, for instance, economic contentment or discontent, as well as the possible impact of war or international policies designed to deter the enemy from attacking.

Gov. Rockefeller's earnestness, his forthrightness, his modesty, his simple honesty are all refreshing characteristics but somehow one gets the impression that, due to misguided advisers, he is moving in unfamiliar waters — among the shoals of practical politics.

On specific issues, it was interesting to see how skillfully Mr. Rockefeller presented his views. He didn't let his interrogator, David Susskind, who conducts the program known as "Open Ends," to catch him up in any way.

Again and again, Mr. Rockefeller restated a question so as to eliminate any misleading phrases. His mastery of that kind of thing was outstanding. His respectful way of referring to Mr. Nixon and an insistence by the New York governor that he is trying not to hurt but to improve his party's chances undoubtedly made a deep impresson on many who heard the talk.

It seems too bad that Gov. Rockefeller has not had as yet the political experience necessary to achieve the worthy objectives which he is trying to express today. But he is learning fast.

HE IS ENDOWED with the common sense and integrity of an Eisenhower. If the New York governor is willing to give the time and energy to remake his own party in the image of prudent progressivism that he has in mind, he can perform in the next decade a useful service.

Like many liberals, he reaches out for goals designed to improve the welfare of the American people.

But he hasn't learned yet that in government, as in politics, the art of adjustment is paramount and that what is "possible" to do in legislation or public policy often has to be accepted by those in public office, whereas only those on the outside can continue to argue for something better.

Several things are clear. Gov. Rockefeller is not a radical but, at heart, a conservative. He is not fooled by Communist intrigue and is alert to the Communist menace inside and outside America.

He is for a balanced federal budget but he has the temerity to ask that the money be spent for things essential to our defense.

Unhappily, such an ideal has to run up against the practical — the votes in Congress for measures on the domestic side.

The pressures upon government become the pressures on party.

This may be an unsatisfactory system, but it's the way that big government, trying to handle the affairs of nearly 180 million people, does manage to operate these days.

Not Tough Enough

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Ironically both President Eisenhower and Premier Nikita Khrushchev, the great opponents in the East-West power struggle, get lambasted for not being tough enough.

In the past few days these things happened:

2. Sen. John F. Kennedy, Democrat, and New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, Republican, both criticized Eisenhower for not having this country in a much stronger military position in facing the Russians.

Pravda represented Khrushchev's leftist critics among the Communists as dedicated to the theory of keeping the international pot boiling.

Actually, Khrushchev has kept it boiling. He talked mildly for some months—between his visit here last September and the May summit meeting—but all the time he held the possibility of a Berlin blockade over the West's head.

And Khrushchev's rage which wrecked the summit started with the Soviets' capture of an American spy plane whose repeated excursions over Russia the past four years showed a big dent in Russian defense.

Baffled Westerners, at a loss to explain the violence of Khrushchev's summit performance, leaped to the conclusion that he must be having trouble at home or be under tremendous Kremlin pressure to stop being half-way pleasant.

The Pravda defense of him would indicate this is not so and that he is in full command in Russia. The Pravda piece can be interpreted as aimed straight at the Red Chinese who have been impatient with Khrushchev's dealings with the West.

Rockefeller, who'd like to get the Republican presidential nomination, did not actually say Eisenhower wasn't tough enough in dealing with Russia. He implied it by saying this county is far from being strong enough militarily for dealing Russia.

He wants a much bigger defense buildup.

Kennedy, right now the frontrunner for the Democratic nomination, said the summit meeting was doomed to failure before Khrushchev wrecked it because this country was neither strong enough nor well enough prepared to make real negotiations possible.

Sen. Kennedy's Sloganeering

Sen. John F. Kennedy charged in his campaign speech on the Senate floor Tuesday that the Paris summit meeting would have collapsed even without the U2 incident because President Eisenhower and his aides went to it with "obsolete policies of meaningless slogans."

Yet a careful look at Sen. Kennedy's own proposals shows that his demand for "fresh ideas" is really only a slogan itself.

THE CHIEF TOPICS slated for discussion in the summit talks were the Berlin situation and disarmament.

What "fresh ideas" would Sen. Kennedy have put forth? To yield to Nikita Khrushchev's demand that the Allies pull out of West Berlin would so betray the West German people as to make Munich of 1938 look like a Sunday school picnic. To yield to the Kremlin's terms for disarmament would be the ultimate in national idiocy.

It is conceded generally that Premier Khrushchev had decided long before the U2 incident to torpedo the summit conference simply because he realized his sweetness-and-light act had failed to con the Allies into relaxing their well-founded doubts about his ulterior motives.

To go back further, it was this sort of experience with the Kremlin in the past that led President Eisenhower to be reluctant all along to go to another summit meeting. He finally agreed only because he felt compelled, in the interests of peace, to find out whether the Russians were more ready than previously to back up their pretty talk with concrete deeds.

On this basis, he probably would be the first to agree with Sen. Kennedy that "there was no real success which the summit could have achieved."

ON OTHER POINTS, Sen. Kennedy said the United States must build its military strength with new weapons to give it the greatest nuclear striking force in the world. Aside from the apparent contradiction this statement makes to his "fresh ideas" demand, for what does Sen. Kennedy think we are spending 41 billion dollars a year?

He said the nation must "regain" its ability to intervene in any limited war anywhere in the world. He failed to explain just what situation proved we have lost that ability.

He said we must "rebuild" NATO into a viable and consolidated force. He failed to point out that what point the alliance ceased to be that and ignored the fact that our partners in NATO also have a voice in any changes that are made in it.

He said the foreign aid program must be revamped to provide long-term commitments to help feed and give economic aid to underdeveloped countries. He apparently forgot that the Congress of which he is a member has repeatedly rejected administration proposals to effect long-term agreements.

HE SAID our Mideast policy must be changed "to hasten the inevitable Arab acceptance of the permanence of Israel." He apparently overlooked the fact that the Truman and Eisenhower administrations, plus other world powers, plus United Nations bodies, plus private relief organizations, have tried to do that without success. What further action would he take that would not open the United States to justfied charges of imperialism and interference with the local policies of the Arab states?

He said Latin American nations must be made full partners in Western Hemisphere development. He apparently forgot that the Eisenhower administration has concentrated as much effort on this objective as any other in history.

He charged that our China policy "has failed dismally to move toward its principal objective of weakening Communist rule in the mainland," but offered only the suggestion that the present policy of nonrecognition be continued until Peiping shows a genuine change in its belligerent attitude.

If, as reported, Sen. Kennedy is trying to prove to fellow Democrats as well as Republicans that he is as mature as any other candidate in his approach to foreign affairs, he will have to submit more evidence than his Senate speech.

It contained a lot of slogans, but no fresh ideas.

These Election-Year Congresses

What is it about an election-year Congress that makes editoral writers, political pundits and other public commentators refer to it in snide terms denoting almost total faithlessness?

There are several things, but one to be dwelt upon at the moment is the lackadaisical approach to work when there is not much time to do it in.

For instance, after 5½ months of leisurely efforts, the present Congress finds itself with most of its really important work yet to be done and a deadline for adjournment coming up in less than a month. The Democratic National Convention opens July 11 and it would be unthinkable for the Democrats who control Congress to be absent.

WHAT HAS to be done, of course, is its turn on the heat and step up the pace, working longer hours, cutting down the length of weekend recesses and grinding out bills at a faster clip.

This means a lot of busness is going to be left unfinished because it cannot all be done in the time remaining. And what will be done — the "must" legislation such as appropriations bills and politically potent proposals — will not get the attention it needs.

There has been some talk, as there is in every big election year, of simply recessing before the conventions and returning to Capitol Hill after they are over. This, however, is an impractical suggestion, because most of the House members and about a third of the Senate members have to get back home to run for re-election. If they were forced to conduct their campaigns from the floors of the congressional chambers, politics would interfere with the legislation even more than it does at other times.

THERE HAS BEEN some other talk that Congress might return after the November elections to complete this year's work. That suggestion is even more impractical than the first because some of the legislators then would be lame ducks and the others would be reluctant to take any definitive action before the new president has a chance present his program.

Obviously, there is not much that can be done about saving this session from too much last-minute rush. What can be done about it in the future?

Probably nothing. It is just one of the characteristics of Congress' way of doing business, and, politics being what it is, no change appears likely.

Which means that editorial writers, political pundits and other public commentators should keep their snide remarks about election-year Congresses on file for future reference.

Dangerous Disorder

A traffic problem, peculiar to the out-of-doors season, is the parking congestion at roadside business places such as fruit stands and ice cream stores.

St. Clair Township trustees have had their attention called to such a situation at the intersection of Route 170 and the Smiths Ferry-Calcutta Rd. at Calcutta where parked autos often block part of a lane of the road or obsecure motorists' view of the intersection approach.

Any business depending upon motorists for trade should provide adequate and safe parking. Yet there are service stations and restaurants in this area where exits from the grounds have signs or hedges preventing a proper view of the roadway, or which offer parking that is a hazard to passing traffic.

At other sites, motorists fail to properly utilize ample parking areas, creating potential danger and disorder.

But the primary responsibility for safe and efficient service rests with the business operator, and there are a number who should re-arrange parking facilities before serious injury results.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Banks now offer to finance plasure boats, with a small down payment and long-term installments. We went in to get one on our new cruiser. "Welcome aboard," we said. "Aboard what?" asked the banker. "OUR cruiser" we replied. "The one WE are buying together."

He didn't seem to understand the plural so we explained, "I'll be in command of the yacht but you will have the financial rights." "Oh, you have been reading our advertisements about financing boats so seasickness will be brought within the reach of all!" he said.

He asked what kind of a yacht we had. "Nothing much. Just a 38-foot twin-screw job with flying bridge, sea telephone and built-in cocktail shakers. I'm sure the bank will like it," we said.

"This is a conservative bank," said the man, "and the color is important. We lean to plain white and dull gray." We told him that if he would give us the money we would paint the yacht his way.

"How much help do you desire?" he asked. "The boat cost $26,500, with batteries, and bilge-pump thrown in. How nautical is your generosity?" we replied.

"This is business, not generosity, even if my smile gives a contrary impression. We lead all other banks in our desire to make it easy for you to approach yacht club floats without worries and fly code flags without feeling you are signaling for help," he said. Here the banker took out two yachting caps, handing one to us and putting the other on his own head.

"Dual controls. One for you and one for me," he explained. It seemed reasonable.

ESPIONAGE IS DIRTY and he would never allow it, says Harry Truman. Pearl Harbors, anyone? Harry makes some curious cracks and in saying he would never stand for spies in an hour or peril does he put himself above George Washington, Abe Lincoln, Nathan Hale and all the presidents and military heroes of history?

Russia's Moiseyev Dancers are coming back to America in a cultural exchange. A little culture in between denunciations, threats and vilifications isn't bad, we suppose, if you take it in an armored vest and keep your ear alert for possible cries of "We will bury you, ya bums!"

No Way To Enter The Arena

Labor Ponders 'Rocky's' Stand

By Victor Riesel

NEW YORK

There was a farewell gathering aboard the outward bound liner SS United States last Thursday noon. Labor leaders were bidding good-by to their chief, George Meany and talking of Nelson A. Rockefeller's blast at Richard Nixon.

Victor Riesel

As they walked down Pier 86, one chap remarked that it seemed to him that the governor had spoken as bluntly to the House of Labor as he had to the White House.

Gov. Rockefeller's recent talks have had in them a little noticed, little discussed labor policy which has surprised the union chiefs who had expected to be wooed instead of warned.

Some of the labor men had been with the governor in the bucolic relaxation of Cooperstown, N. Y., the previous week.

One section of Mr. Rockefeller's speech there made its impact only after the attack on Nixon.

Nelson Rockefeller asserted the nation could not afford a constantly shortening work week.

THIS IS HOW he said it:

"It is clear that in this period, as we have been doing with regularity over at least 50 years . . . we chose to forego an important part of the increased (gross national) product we could have obtained, in order to achieve increased leisure. We did this by shortening the work week and increasing vacation time. This has been a genuine social gain. It represents a valid and defensible choice. But it is a choice.

"Obviously we could not go on indefinitely cutting down work hours at the rate of about 12½ hours per year without reaching a point of diminishing returns.

"If there were a sufficiently broad acceptance of national purpose, a full realization of the seriousness of the challenges we face, I think that the American public might agree on a moratorium on increased leisure for a period—or a least to temper appreciably the downtrend that has prevailed."

It also appeared to the labor leaders that Rockefeller wanted a longer moratorium on such strikes as last year's national steel stoppage and this week's missile base walkout.

In his attack on Nixon, the governor reiterated his belief in collective bargaining, but added:

"Yet I believe the President should be given discretionary authority to use compulsory arbitration if an economic conflict reaches the point of clearly endangering the national welfare, and if all honest attempts at collective bargaining, mediation and arbitration have been exhausted.

ROCKEFELLER did not spell out his plan. But what he believes specificially is this:

First, mediation should be pursued "to the ultimate practical limit." Then the Federal Mediation Board should request a fact-finding board.

If this isn't heeded within "a limited time," the board should be empowered to recommend a settlement.

If the settlement is not accepted, the president should have the power to ask for an injunction to end the strike and appoint an arbitrator "charged with settling the dispute." The arbitrator's decision would be final.

The governor and his colleagues believe that such a procedure should have been used to end the 116-day steel strike.

That's what he meant when he said here last Thursday that a "surrender to forces of inflation that marked the long delayed settlement of the steel strike" could have been avoided.

Steel Union leaders as well as the industry have defended their pact as non-inflationary.

In his criticism of Nixon, the governor appears to take on the steel industry too, for he charges that they plan to increase prices after the election by one billion dollars annually.

To round out his labor policy, Rockefeller has also consistently demanded the end of featherbedding and all other "restrictive practices by labor or management."

He came out against tariff and quota protection which he called business subsidies.

The union leaders, delighted to observe the Rockefeller-Nixon feud, were not so certain, on reexamination, that they weren't caught in the middle.

Rockefeller's Policies

By Raymond Moley

Two interviews on television on Sunday failed to make two of the vital points concerning Gov. Rockefeller's attack upon President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon: They failed to bring out the fact that the vice presdent has already made his position clear on all of the 10 points on which Rockefeller bases his policies; and they failed to show how closely the Rockefeller program resembles that advocated by at least three of the current Democratic candidates for the nomination.

I have great admiration for Lawrence Spivak's "Meet the Press" program. The panel on Sunday was excellent—honest, straightforward, informed. But there was a time limit, and Rockefeller was loquacious.

He filled in valuable time with generalities.

The panel failed to bring out that on every one of the 10 points in the Rockefeller "platform," Nixon has already made his position clear.

Also, except for one question, "What distinguishes you from a Democrat?"—which Rockefeller answered with mere generalities—there was no development point by point of the fact that his "10 points" are almost precisely what three of the Democratic candidates have been saying for months.

I have no admiration for the Susskind "Open End" program. The inquisitor is a showman who like most of his profession, follows a leftist line without knowing much about the reasons why.

ROCKEFELLER was thus permitted to establish his erroneous, not to say false, assumption that Nixon has not made his position clear on every one of the fundamental issues upon which his campaign will be based.

On defense and foreign affairs he stands firmly with the President, with the addition of his own convictions about the toughness and rigidity of the Communist position on every one of the points raised by Rockefeller on the domestic front.

Two and a half months ago, as a reporter and commentator I addressed a letter to Nixon saying that it seemed to be a good time to state his position on domestic issues, and in reply he invited me to go over the whole field in a personal interview.

I accepted and delineated his stand in three issues of Newsweek. On the basis of that, let us compare the 10 points of Rockefeller with Nixon's position.

As I have indicated, his position on foreign affairs and defense is that of the President. On domestic issues the comparisons and contrasts are these:

1. Basic in the entire Rockefeller-Democratic economic philosophy is the need that, by planning and stimulating the economy by public works and welfare expenditures by the federal government, the rate of growth of the gross national product should be increased to 5 or 6 per cent from its present level of about 3 per cent.

Nixon rejects this in toto. He would, by tax revision and by protecting the freedom of the economy, permit wider opportunity, confidence, and competition to provide natural growth.

2. Rockefeller subscribes to the Forand principle, which would tie health aid for the elderly to social security, with increased social security taxes.

Nixon rejects this and would provide aid to those who need it on a voluntary basis.

3. On school aid, Rockefeller would provide federal aid for construction, with some money for scholarships.

Nixon would pinpoint aid for construction only. Essentially, there is no difference here.

4. On labor, Nixon would sustain the Taft-Hartley and Landrum-Griffin Acts and build upon them. He opposes compulsory arbitration.

Rockefeller is for compulsory arbitration.

NO CONCLUSION can be reached except that Rockefeller would have the Republican party and its candidate agree with him or face defeat in November.

Yes, we will support the party, he says but apparently with great misgivings about its success. That would open the way for him in 1964.

Neither Nixon nor his party can accept such a program as Rockefeller's since it would be a virtual repudiation of the President's record.

Rockefeller's Point

By David Lawrence

Governor Shows Party Policy Problem

After listening and watching for two hours on Sunday night a television program in which Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York answered all kinds of provocative questions, this writer is convinced of the sincerity, earnestness and high purpose of the man who startled the country last week by his challenge to Vice President Nixon.

David Lawrence

Granted that it's too late for the Republicans to nominate anybody but the vice president — and, indeed, judged by political standards, Mr. Nixon is the man they are in duty bound to choose — the fact remains that Gov. Rockefeller unwittingly made a good argument for some other system of choosing party nominees and making party policy than the one in vogue.

In fact, Gov. Rockefeller was advancing a theory which constituted the most significant aspect of his television talk.

When all pretense and hypocrisy are thrust aside, it must be conceded that the present system of forming party policy or selecting the best candidate needs revision.

Indeed, the whole structure of Government has grown so large that in many of the answers that Gov. Rockefeller made he reflected to some extent the impatience of the public with political habits as they relate to government in these days of crisis.

What Gov. Rockefeller was trying to say, in effect, was that he favors support not for who is right but for what is right. But it is political heresy today to say that anything the opposte party stands for is right, just as it is unorthodox to say that one's own candidate may be wrong on particular issues.

THE TRADITION is that before a national convention there can be rival candidates expressing different views but that, once a candidate is chosen, the party members must rally behind him.

Gov. Rockefeller is ready to support Vice President Nixon after his nomination but he thinks that between now and convention time policies can be shaped with respect to the future, and then a united party can go before the electorate.

This, of course, is not a practical viewpoint. What Mr. Rockefeller is doing today, he might better have done six months ago.

Since he apparently has cast aside consideration of any effects his one-man crusade may have on his own political future, the New York governor is of the opinion that a debate on the issues and a clarification of the Republican position before the convention would help Mr. Nixon to win.

Much of the criticism directed toward the administration, however, arises from changes in the circumstances of world affairs themselves.

Neiter Mr. Nixon nor President Eisenhower can be held responsible for the changed situation resulting from Nikita Khrushchehv's erratic behavior. Hindsight is always better than foresight.

JUDGED ABSTRACTLY, Gov. Rockefeller is fighting in a good cause—for a different way of making party policy and choosing candidates but, as has often been said, "it's a condition and not a theory" that confronts the Republican party today.

One factor is the manner in which the opposition party naturally takes advantage of any dissension.

Perhaps the real trouble is that the vast majority of the voters do not analyze the issues critically, anyway, and that generalities do influence elections — as, for instance, economic contentment or discontent, as well as the possible impact of war or international policies designed to deter the enemy from attacking.

Gov. Rockefeller's earnestness, his forthrightness, his modesty, his simple honesty are all refreshing characteristics but somehow one gets the impression that, due to misguided advisers, he is moving in unfamiliar waters — among the shoals of practical politics.

On specific issues, it was interesting to see how skillfully Mr. Rockefeller presented his views. He didn't let his interrogator, David Susskind, who conducts the program known as "Open Ends," to catch him up in any way.

Again and again, Mr. Rockefeller restated a question so as to eliminate any misleading phrases. His mastery of that kind of thing was outstanding. His respectful way of referring to Mr. Nixon and an insistence by the New York governor that he is trying not to hurt but to improve his party's chances undoubtedly made a deep impresson on many who heard the talk.

It seems too bad that Gov. Rockefeller has not had as yet the political experience necessary to achieve the worthy objectives which he is trying to express today. But he is learning fast.

HE IS ENDOWED with the common sense and integrity of an Eisenhower. If the New York governor is willing to give the time and energy to remake his own party in the image of prudent progressivism that he has in mind, he can perform in the next decade a useful service.

Like many liberals, he reaches out for goals designed to improve the welfare of the American people.

But he hasn't learned yet that in government, as in politics, the art of adjustment is paramount and that what is "possible" to do in legislation or public policy often has to be accepted by those in public office, whereas only those on the outside can continue to argue for something better.

Several things are clear. Gov. Rockefeller is not a radical but, at heart, a conservative. He is not fooled by Communist intrigue and is alert to the Communist menace inside and outside America.

He is for a balanced federal budget but he has the temerity to ask that the money be spent for things essential to our defense.

Unhappily, such an ideal has to run up against the practical — the votes in Congress for measures on the domestic side.

The pressures upon government become the pressures on party.

This may be an unsatisfactory system, but it's the way that big government, trying to handle the affairs of nearly 180 million people, does manage to operate these days.

More Phony Bills Crop Up

More of the phony $20 bills passed in the Ohio Valley and Northern Panhandle in a counterfeit spree by 2 Cleveland men have been cropping up in the area.

Treasury agents reported finding over $11,700 in counterfeit $20 bills and are holding in Columbus for Grand Jury action William R. Wheatley, 27, and Lawrence J. Perlatti, 25, who were arrested in Wellsburg Sunday, where a bogus bill was spotted.

Police reported today three more counterfeit bills were passed Tuesday night in Cadiz and treasury agents are in the Harrison County village today investigating.

Police Chief John Hephner of Wellsville said today he has received an alert to be on the lookout for the phony bills and is passing the information along to Wellsville banks and merchants.

Authorities recovered an estimated 25 of an unknown number of counterfeit bills circulating in the Ohio Valley and are checking further on out-of-state connections of a possible counterfeiting ring.

Agents said the phony bills all bear the same serial number — D 48290406 A. They were printed with poor ink but otherwise appear legitimate.

Agent Andrew P. O'Malley of the Secret Service at Wheeling said he expects to end his investigation today. He would not divulge whether or not the investigation has linked the local case with any ring in another city.

Police said the phony bills in Cadiz were passed at Finnical's Drug Store, Custer's Pharmacy and Marko's Ranch, a tavern. Three were recovered in Steubenville and several in Weirton.

Taylor Opposes Johnson As 2nd Delegates' Choice

John Taylor of Salem, alternate-at-large from the 18th Congressional District to the national Democratic convention, has turned down a party proposal to back Sen. Johnson of Texas as the presidential nominee should the Ohio delegation's first choice—Sen. Kennedy—release it.

Taylor said the state delegation should not be committed to a second choice other than George Nye, and should be in a position to cast a solid group of votes where it would do the state "the most good."

"Kennedy at least deserves the effort" of the delegation to sell him to the convention, Taylor has written to a state party representative asking Johnson support.

Taylor pointed out Rep. Wayne Hays first came out for Kennedy. Taylor said Rep. Hays' "present practicing of political polygamy suggests his first choice of Kennedy was calculated to woo the Catholics of this district for his own re-election to Congress." Taylor said if he were a Catholic and thought Hays was not trying to sell Kennedy enthusiastically, "I would vote against him for re-election."

Scout Group Airs Activities

Plans for future activities and various committee reports were heard at meeting of the Cherokee Boy Scout District committee and institutional representatives Tuesday night at the Chester American Legion home. Twenty were present.

Alton C. West, chairman, presided. Jerry D'Angelo of Chester was introduced as the new district advancement chairman. He thanked Charles Davis for his work in establishing Cub Pack 48 under the sponsorship of the Chester Lions Club. Richard Mays, the pack's institutional representative, reported the new unit has 11 cubs and 7 committeemen. He said den mothers are needed.

Bob Arnold was introduced by Robert Gray, district executive, as the newly appointed aquatic director for summer camp to begin June 26. Arnold has completed a water course at the National Camping School.

Jack Vincent, an explorer representative of Post 7, also attended the school and will serve as activities director for camp.

Various operating committee reports were heard. Chairmen reporting were Bill Rayburn, camping and activities, and Thomas Snow, leadership training. Gray reported for Frank Rossi, organization and extension, and Eugene Seeley, district commissioner.

Russel Nelson was introduced as institutional representative of Pack 20 of Wellsville; Frank Thompson, local Navy recruiter, announced all Explorer Post officers will meet at his home tonight at 7:30 to elect new officers to the Explorer Cabinet.

All institutional representatives reported. West and Thompson served refreshments.

Club To Sponsor Wellsville Circus

The Wellsville Kiwanis Club today announced plans to sponsor a circus Monday, Oct. 3.

A contract with the Mills Brothers Circus was signed at the club's meeting Tuesday night at Piatt's Tea Room.

The three-ring performance will be held at Central Park. Details will be announced later.

Twenty-two were present. "Dick Rowe Night" was observed in honor of Richard Rowe, first vice president, who is moving to Decatur, Ill. He was cited for his work in the club.

Richard H. Brown, president, presided. It was announced several members plan to attend the quarterly meeting of the District Council at the Lisbon American Legion Post home Thursday at 6:30 p. m. Carl P. Reuth of Sidney, Ohio District governor, will be present.

More Phony Bills Crop Up

More of the phony $20 bills passed in the Ohio Valley and Northern Panhandle in a counterfeit spree by 2 Cleveland men have been cropping up in the area.

Treasury agents reported finding over $11,700 in counterfeit $20 bills and are holding in Columbus for Grand Jury action William R. Wheatley, 27, and Lawrence J. Perlatti, 25, who were arrested in Wellsburg Sunday, where a bogus bill was spotted.

Police reported today three more counterfeit bills were passed Tuesday night in Cadiz and treasury agents are in the Harrison County village today investigating.

Police Chief John Hephner of Wellsville said today he has received an alert to be on the lookout for the phony bills and is passing the information along to Wellsville banks and merchants.

Authorities recovered an estimated 25 of an unknown number of counterfeit bills circulating in the Ohio Valley and are checking further on out-of-state connections of a possible counterfeiting ring.

Agents said the phony bills all bear the same serial number — D 48290406 A. They were printed with poor ink but otherwise appear legitimate.

Agent Andrew P. O'Malley of the Secret Service at Wheeling said he expects to end his investigation today. He would not divulge whether or not the investigation has linked the local case with any ring in another city.

Police said the phony bills in Cadiz were passed at Finnical's Drug Store, Custer's Pharmacy and Marko's Ranch, a tavern. Three were recovered in Steubenville and several in Weirton.

Taylor Opposes Johnson As 2nd Delegates' Choice

John Taylor of Salem, alternate-at-large from the 18th Congressional District to the national Democratic convention, has turned down a party proposal to back Sen. Johnson of Texas as the presidential nominee should the Ohio delegation's first choice—Sen. Kennedy—release it.

Taylor said the state delegation should not be committed to a second choice other than George Nye, and should be in a position to cast a solid group of votes where it would do the state "the most good."

"Kennedy at least deserves the effort" of the delegation to sell him to the convention, Taylor has written to a state party representative asking Johnson support.

Taylor pointed out Rep. Wayne Hays first came out for Kennedy. Taylor said Rep. Hays' "present practicing of political polygamy suggests his first choice of Kennedy was calculated to woo the Catholics of this district for his own re-election to Congress." Taylor said if he were a Catholic and thought Hays was not trying to sell Kennedy enthusiastically, "I would vote against him for re-election."

Scout Group Airs Activities

Plans for future activities and various committee reports were heard at meeting of the Cherokee Boy Scout District committee and institutional representatives Tuesday night at the Chester American Legion home. Twenty were present.

Alton C. West, chairman, presided. Jerry D'Angelo of Chester was introduced as the new district advancement chairman. He thanked Charles Davis for his work in establishing Cub Pack 48 under the sponsorship of the Chester Lions Club. Richard Mays, the pack's institutional representative, reported the new unit has 11 cubs and 7 committeemen. He said den mothers are needed.

Bob Arnold was introduced by Robert Gray, district executive, as the newly appointed aquatic director for summer camp to begin June 26. Arnold has completed a water course at the National Camping School.

Jack Vincent, an explorer representative of Post 7, also attended the school and will serve as activities director for camp.

Various operating committee reports were heard. Chairmen reporting were Bill Rayburn, camping and activities, and Thomas Snow, leadership training. Gray reported for Frank Rossi, organization and extension, and Eugene Seeley, district commissioner.

Russel Nelson was introduced as institutional representative of Pack 20 of Wellsville; Frank Thompson, local Navy recruiter, announced all Explorer Post officers will meet at his home tonight at 7:30 to elect new officers to the Explorer Cabinet.

All institutional representatives reported. West and Thompson served refreshments.

Club To Sponsor Wellsville Circus

The Wellsville Kiwanis Club today announced plans to sponsor a circus Monday, Oct. 3.

A contract with the Mills Brothers Circus was signed at the club's meeting Tuesday night at Piatt's Tea Room.

The three-ring performance will be held at Central Park. Details will be announced later.

Twenty-two were present. "Dick Rowe Night" was observed in honor of Richard Rowe, first vice president, who is moving to Decatur, Ill. He was cited for his work in the club.

Richard H. Brown, president, presided. It was announced several members plan to attend the quarterly meeting of the District Council at the Lisbon American Legion Post home Thursday at 6:30 p. m. Carl P. Reuth of Sidney, Ohio District governor, will be present.

Group Shows $508 Expense In Levy Drive

A total of $508 was spent in a campaign in support of 3 levies approved by East Liverpool School District voters at the May 3 primaries, it was shown in a sworn statement of expenditures on file today with the County Election Board.

The financial report of the Citizens' Committee for Better Schools was filed by Edwin Maloney, chairman. It showed the committee collected $621 in contributions, mostly from parent - teacher organizations and similar groups.

The $112.92 remaining will be "retained for the next necessary campaign for school levies," the report said. Law requires committees and candidates to show contributions, expenses, unpaid bills—if any — and unexpended balances and the purposes for which they will be used.

The committee backed renewal of an 8-mill levy and 2 new propositions totaling 4 mills.

Meanwhile, eight other candidates and committees have filed the reports.

Group Shows $508 Expense In Levy Drive

A total of $508 was spent in a campaign in support of 3 levies approved by East Liverpool School District voters at the May 3 primaries, it was shown in a sworn statement of expenditures on file today with the County Election Board.

The financial report of the Citizens' Committee for Better Schools was filed by Edwin Maloney, chairman. It showed the committee collected $621 in contributions, mostly from parent - teacher organizations and similar groups.

The $112.92 remaining will be "retained for the next necessary campaign for school levies," the report said. Law requires committees and candidates to show contributions, expenses, unpaid bills—if any — and unexpended balances and the purposes for which they will be used.

The committee backed renewal of an 8-mill levy and 2 new propositions totaling 4 mills.

Meanwhile, eight other candidates and committees have filed the reports.

MISS MARY HAVIRD

Native Of Georgia To Wed.

Jana Hall, George Bennett Exchange Marriage Vows

Carrying her mother's bridal handkerchief, Miss Jana Lee Hall became the bride of George Edward Bennett on Sunday — the 23rd wedding anniversary of her parents — at 2:30 o'clock in the Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester M. Hall, 235 Thompson Ave., and her husband is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Bennett of East Liverpool.

Dr. A. K. Davison, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church, officiated for the double-ring ceremony in the presence of some 250 relatives and friends. Palms, ferns and seven-branch candelabra formed the altar background. Satin bows marked the family pews. Darrell Hall, the bride's brother, and Charles Mackall Jr., her cousin, were acolytes.

Mrs. Jessie Hall Kaufman, church organist, presented a half-hour of wedding music. Howard Claypool sang "O, Perfect Love" and "A Wedding Benediction."

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Scharlott original. The floor-length gown was made of Schiffli embroidered nylon tulle. The Basque bodice was designed with a scoop neckline and tiny sleeves, outlined with seed pearls. The voluminous skirt, underscored with pleated tulle, was caught in the front by a large bow. A back pouf, beginning at the waistline, extended through the chapel train. She wore cultured pearl earrings, the gift of the bridegroom, and elbow - length mitts of embroidered nylon.

Her queen's crown of lace, enriched with rhinestones and pearls, held a fingertip veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a white prayer book, the gift of her parents. It was covered with an arrangement of white orchids and satin streamers with flowers tied in the lovers' knots. Observing the traditions, she borrowed the hoop underskirt from her cousin, Mrs. Eugene Konick of Brockway, Pa., and carried a sixpence in her shoe, sent by another cousin, Mrs. Ronald Abbott of England.

Mrs. Robert Lynn was her sister's matron of honor. She wore an intermission - length gown of turquoise pure silk, fashioned with a fitted bodice and portrait neckline. The cap sleeves were touched with tiny bows and the bouffant skirt was highlighted with a fluttering panel attached to the hemline. Her Dior bow of the same fabric held a theater veil.

Bridesmaids were Miss Carol Lee Mackall of Toledo, cousin of the bride, Miss Mary Jo Marquette and Miss Karen Boston. Their gowns and headpieces were patterned identically to those of the matron of honor and were of shaded yellow.

The attendants carried spray baskets tinted to match their gowns and filled with white carnations, baby breath and Southern smilax. They wore cultured pearl earrings and short white gloves, gifts of the bride.

Miss Deborah Ann Emmerling was junior bridesmaid and wore a dress of white nylon chiffon. The full skirt was accented with a turquoise cummerbund of silk chiffon, forming a double bow in the back. She wore a white Dior headband and a pearl necklace, the gift of the bride. Her turquoise spray basket, filled with the same flowers as those of the bridesmaids, was trimmed with white ribbons and streamers.

MRS. G. E. BENNETT

Weds On Parents' Anniversary.

Robert Lynn, brother - in - law of the bride, was best man. Ushers were David Hall, cousin of the bride, Robert Gallagher and Gary Gallagher. They received tie bars from the bridegroom.

Poudre blue silk organza over lace, featuring a back panel, was worn by the bride's mother. A small lace hat and accessories dyed to match completed her costume. Mrs. Morris Briggs, aunt of the bridegoom, wore a black eyelet dress with black and white accessories. White carnation corsages complemented their attire.

The Amikitia Club with Mrs. Earl Locke chairman, was in charge of the reception in the social rooms. Mrs. John F. Wood, supervised decorations.

A four-tier cake topped with a bridal couple centered the buffet table covered with a yellow cloth. Springeri green was draped over the front with clusters of turquoise mums forming miniature nosegays highlighting the points. The punch bowl and appointments were of white milk-glass and the tapers were encircled with lily-of-the-valley.

Party dolls accented the bridal table. They were dressed in costumes identical to those of the bride and her attendants with the names of the girls featured in silver lettering. Bridal placecards were used for the bridegroom and his ushers. The toast to the newlyweds was led by the best man. Miss Bonnie McWhorter provided organ background music.

A buffet dinner for some 50 guests was held in the evening at the home of the bride's parents. A centerpiece of lily-of-the-valley and silver fern decorated the table. Aides were Mrs. Robert Rickard, Mrs. Chester Bednarski, Mrs. John Jurczak, Mrs. Charles Mackall and Mrs. Frank Jurczak, aunts of the bride.

For her honeymoon to Atlantic City, the bride wore a gold sheath dress with bolero jacket, black patent accessories and her bridal orchids. They will reside in a newly-furnished apartment at 813 Chester Ave.

The newlyweds are 1958 graduates of East Liverpool High School. The bride is employed at the Ohio Power Co. and her husband works at Bloor's Pharmacy.

Jana Hall, George Bennett Exchange Marriage Vows

Carrying her mother's bridal handkerchief, Miss Jana Lee Hall became the bride of George Edward Bennett on Sunday — the 23rd wedding anniversary of her parents — at 2:30 o'clock in the Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester M. Hall, 235 Thompson Ave., and her husband is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Bennett of East Liverpool.

Dr. A. K. Davison, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church, officiated for the double-ring ceremony in the presence of some 250 relatives and friends. Palms, ferns and seven-branch candelabra formed the altar background. Satin bows marked the family pews. Darrell Hall, the bride's brother, and Charles Mackall Jr., her cousin, were acolytes.

Mrs. Jessie Hall Kaufman, church organist, presented a half-hour of wedding music. Howard Claypool sang "O, Perfect Love" and "A Wedding Benediction."

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Scharlott original. The floor-length gown was made of Schiffli embroidered nylon tulle. The Basque bodice was designed with a scoop neckline and tiny sleeves, outlined with seed pearls. The voluminous skirt, underscored with pleated tulle, was caught in the front by a large bow. A back pouf, beginning at the waistline, extended through the chapel train. She wore cultured pearl earrings, the gift of the bridegroom, and elbow - length mitts of embroidered nylon.

Her queen's crown of lace, enriched with rhinestones and pearls, held a fingertip veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a white prayer book, the gift of her parents. It was covered with an arrangement of white orchids and satin streamers with flowers tied in the lovers' knots. Observing the traditions, she borrowed the hoop underskirt from her cousin, Mrs. Eugene Konick of Brockway, Pa., and carried a sixpence in her shoe, sent by another cousin, Mrs. Ronald Abbott of England.

Mrs. Robert Lynn was her sister's matron of honor. She wore an intermission - length gown of turquoise pure silk, fashioned with a fitted bodice and portrait neckline. The cap sleeves were touched with tiny bows and the bouffant skirt was highlighted with a fluttering panel attached to the hemline. Her Dior bow of the same fabric held a theater veil.

Bridesmaids were Miss Carol Lee Mackall of Toledo, cousin of the bride, Miss Mary Jo Marquette and Miss Karen Boston. Their gowns and headpieces were patterned identically to those of the matron of honor and were of shaded yellow.

The attendants carried spray baskets tinted to match their gowns and filled with white carnations, baby breath and Southern smilax. They wore cultured pearl earrings and short white gloves, gifts of the bride.

Miss Deborah Ann Emmerling was junior bridesmaid and wore a dress of white nylon chiffon. The full skirt was accented with a turquoise cummerbund of silk chiffon, forming a double bow in the back. She wore a white Dior headband and a pearl necklace, the gift of the bride. Her turquoise spray basket, filled with the same flowers as those of the bridesmaids, was trimmed with white ribbons and streamers.

MRS. G. E. BENNETT
Weds On Parents' Anniversary.

Robert Lynn, brother - in - law of the bride, was best man. Ushers were David Hall, cousin of the bride, Robert Gallagher and Gary Gallagher. They received tie bars from the bridegroom.

Poudre blue silk organza over lace, featuring a back panel, was worn by the bride's mother. A small lace hat and accessories dyed to match completed her costume. Mrs. Morris Briggs, aunt of the bridegoom, wore a black eyelet dress with black and white accessories. White carnation corsages complemented their attire.

The Amikitia Club with Mrs. Earl Locke chairman, was in charge of the reception in the social rooms. Mrs. John F. Wood, supervised decorations.

A four-tier cake topped with a bridal couple centered the buffet table covered with a yellow cloth. Springeri green was draped over the front with clusters of turquoise mums forming miniature nosegays highlighting the points. The punch bowl and appointments were of white milk-glass and the tapers were encircled with lily-of-the-valley.

Party dolls accented the bridal table. They were dressed in costumes identical to those of the bride and her attendants with the names of the girls featured in silver lettering. Bridal placecards were used for the bridegroom and his ushers. The toast to the newlyweds was led by the best man. Miss Bonnie McWhorter provided organ background music.

A buffet dinner for some 50 guests was held in the evening at the home of the bride's parents. A centerpiece of lily-of-the-valley and silver fern decorated the table. Aides were Mrs. Robert Rickard, Mrs. Chester Bednarski, Mrs. John Jurczak, Mrs. Charles Mackall and Mrs. Frank Jurczak, aunts of the bride.

For her honeymoon to Atlantic City, the bride wore a gold sheath dress with bolero jacket, black patent accessories and her bridal orchids. They will reside in a newly-furnished apartment at 813 Chester Ave.

The newlyweds are 1958 graduates of East Liverpool High School. The bride is employed at the Ohio Power Co. and her husband works at Bloor's Pharmacy.

3-Way Mishap Probe Pushed

Police today are continuing investigation of a crash at 3:19 this morning on Dresden Ave. in which the driver of a 1951 auto apparently fled the scene on foot after colliding with 2 parked cars.

The mishap damaged parked cars owned by Joseph E. Landis, 304 Norton St., and David E. Randolph, 1100 Dresden Ave. The third auto apparently struck the Randolph auto and shoved it into the Landis car, which was pushed into the middle of the street, officers said.

Officers are checking the ownership and other data on the abandoned car in an effort to unsnarl the details of the wreck. Patrolman Floyd K. Heddleston discovered the crash while on routine patrol, police said.

Another mishap Tuesday at Pennsylvania Ave. and Sugar St. damaged a 1955 sedan driven by Charles Brown, 52, of 2119 Harvey Ave., and a 1953 sedan operated by Judy Strom, 20, of Industry R. D. 1. Brown said he halted to let a passenger out of his car when his auto was hit from the rear by the Beaver County car.

Teacher Will Tour South America

By CHARLES CRONIN

At an age when most people's thoughts turn to quiet retirement, a fifth grade teacher at Westgate School will go winging away on a plane Saturday morning for an extensive tour of South America to study for a master's degree.

Visits to the capitals of five South American countries, sightseeing in backward mountain villages and meeting of Argentine "Gauchos" and Brazilian plantation owners has been the dream of a lifetime for Miss Hazel R. McShane, 814 Cadmus St.

A 68-YEAR-OLD veteran of 46 years in the teaching profession, Miss McShane will make the trip along with 45 other Kent State University students—both graduates and undergraduates.

A project of Dr. Gerald H. Read, KSU professor of comparative education, and Dr. Alberto N. Pamies, professor of Spanish, the trip will be taken by 40 Ohioans, two from Texas, and one each from Michigan, Illinois and Colorado.

The trip will provide an opportunity for North American teachers to hear what South American scholars believe should be taught in the elementary and secondary schools of the U. S. concerning the culture of their particular country. Seminars have been scheduled to cover economic, political, social, religious and educational problems and trends in the various countries.

FOR MISS McShane, a 1909 graduate of the 53-member class of East Liverpool High School, the trip culminates years of dreaming of visiting South American countries. Her "travels" so far have been confined to geography and history books and sometimes from trip brochures.

When she answers the departure call of Pan-American Airlines at Cleveland Hopkins Airport at 10 a. m. Saturday, Miss McShane also will be setting foot in a plane for the first time.

Of late, she has been busy getting immunization shots, passport papers and winter clothing for visits in the mountainous countries, but she started preparing for the trip in February by extensive reading of books on South American life.

TEACHER-TOURIST. "Bonin up" on Brazilian culture is Miss Hazel R. McShane, 814 Cadmus St., a fifth grade teacher at Westgate School, who leaves Saturday morning for a study tour of South America to earn credits towards a master's degree from Kent State University. Miss McShane, 68, will be one of 45 graduates and under-graduates of KSU on the tour. Sightseeing in five South American capitals will highlight the five-week trip but not all will be fun. The students must prepare written reports on the visits.

MISS MCSHANE doesn't speak either Spanish or Portuguese, the languages prevalent "South of the Border," but interpreters will travel with the group at all times.

An interesting aspect of the trip, Miss McShane believes, will be comparing pre-written impressions of South America with first-hand reports which must be submitted to KSU for nine-hours credit towards her degree.

The junket figures to cost her about $1,500—her salary for the summer months—but "the tour should be worth every penny of my savings."

Week-long stops are scheduled in the capitals of five nations. The group will study in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Buenos Aires, Argentina, Santiago, Chile, Lima, Peru and Bogota, Colombia, returning home late in July.

MISS MCSHANE feels she is spry enough for such a strenuous trip, but she passed up a chance to visit some mountainous country in Peru because of the extremely high altitude.

An unlucky "break" almost prevented her trip. She suffered a broken ankle in a fall in April in a downtown store and had visions of spending her summer vacation hobbling around her home. However, the ankle mended quickly and when the cast was removed May 31, she continued planning for the trip.

Miss McShane and the others apparently will see much of South America. They will go on an excursion to Brasilia, the multi-million dollar capital city of Brazil, and journey up the La Plata River by boat.

VISITS TO THE best South American colleges and universities, famous opera houses in Buenos Aires, Peruvian museums, and salt mines and coffee plantations are also included in the trip.

Of all the sites on the scheduled tour, Miss McShane wants most to see the operas at Buenos Aires, the Amazon jungles and elaborate plantation houses in Brazil, in addition to the Christ of the Andes.

"All my life I've wanted to see South America," she said. Her only other "trip" was a journey down the St. Lawrence River in 1930 after graduating from Kent State University.

For the last few days she has been packing and unpacking, reading and learning to use a newly-purchased camera.

MISS MCSHANE actually has been in the teaching profession since 1910 when she received a provisional certificate. She later graduated from Kent State Normal School in 1921 by working on extension courses and finally got a bachelor's degree in 1930.

Since then, she has taught in Shaker Heights, Cleveland, for 26 years, 3 more in Elyria and the last 6 at Westgate. She lives alone, her mother having died several years ago.

Two other area residents making the trip are Mrs. Lucille Campbell and Mrs. Anne Stratton, both of Toronto.

Civic League Plans Playground Opening

The Beleek St. Civic League met Tuesday evening and made tentative plans for a flag raising ceremony and opening of its playground at the league building Thursday, June 30.

About 20 attended the meeting and Mrs. Ella Gibson, president, presided. It was decided that teenage socials will be discontinued during the summer and resumed in September. Mrs. Eleanor Roach reported on the socials.

Mrs. Almeda Smith reported that $148 was collected in a recent Tag Day. Roy C. Mahoney, trustee, reported on progress of the league and Mrs. Dorothy E. Peters gave the financial report.

Next meeting will be July 12.

Intruder Gets Candy Supply

A burglar with a sweet tooth obtained a $14 supply of candy when he broke into the Jewel Tea Co. garage in Rural Ln. between 7:30 a. m. Tuesday and 7:45 a. m. today, police reported.

Entry apparently was made by removing bricks underneath a door and squeezing through the small opening, officers said. Then the intruder apparently removed two boards covering a small window and passed the candy out through the opening, police reported.

Meanwhile, a detailed report was filed on the loss at the Cooper Amoco Service Station at E. 3rd and Washington Sts., where a burglary was discovered yesterday morning.

Police said the loot included two 800-x-14 Mohawk whitewall tires, two 670-x-15 Mohawk whitewalls, two boxes of El Verso cigars, a box of R. G. Dunn cigars, an electric Skillsaw worth $40, a tool box and tools valued at $150, cigarettes worth $75 and $15 in change.

with clubs and fire hoses in the nearly four weeks of demonstrations.

Some injured students and police lay at the Parliament gate, splashed with blood and mud.

More than a dozen ambulances shuttled between Parliament and hospitals.

Thousands of rocks and pieces of asphalt littered the Parliament grounds, softened by rain shortly before the fight erupted.

Here and there, bleeding students lay in the mud, unmoving and unattended. Every so often a mother or father would appear and try to pull their son or daughter away from the violent scene.

Demonstrators snarled words such as "murderers" at the police.

Milling about in the turmoil were several Socialist members of Parliament, identified by their red party sashes.

The Socialists insisted they were trying to calm down the mob.

Without the recess, the treaty automatically would take effect Sunday—the day of Eisenhower's arrival—30 days after the Liberal Democrats voted it through a stormy lower house session boycotted by the opposition Socialists.

The treaty, providing for American bases in Japan for at least another 10 years, and Kishi's efforts to ram it through in time for Eisenhower's arrival had become major targets of a gigantic left-wing campaign in Japan.

The U.S. Senate Foreign Relations Committee unanimously approved the pact Tuesday, and final U.S. ratification is expected before Eisenhower arrives.

It is too soon to determine if the parliamentary recess would halt the demonstrations against Kishi and the treaty.

Flag Presented School

Mrs. Raymond A. Akins, left, is shown accepting a new 50-star flag presented to St. Aloysius Parochial School by Mrs. Homer Huston, flag chairman for the Rebecca Griscom Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, at the annual Flag Day luncheon held Tuesday afternoon at the school auditorium.

Some 65 attended and the luncheon was served by the Catholic Daughters of America with Mrs. George Beck, chairman.

Robert Longsworth of Augusta, state representative and superintendent of Carroll County schools, was guest speaker. He discussed "For This We Live—In America." He gave a history of the flag and said "Americans should strive for higher ideals." "In observing Flag Day, we do not pay tribute to the flag in itself, but what it stands for," he said.

Vocal selection by Miss Jayne Smith Kata of Wellsville were "The Homing Heart," "Iris," "The House I Live In" and "Spring, Spring, Spring." She was accompanied by Mrs. Louise Lawton, supervisor of music in the Wellsville elementary schools.

Mrs. James W. Batey, regent, extended the welcome. Mrs. William Kaiser conducted devotions and read an article, "I Am Old Glory." Mrs. Huston led the flag salute and Miss Eleanor Jane Bennett accompanied the singing of "Star Spangled Banner."

District Planning Given Support Of Chamber's Board

A proposal for establishment of a regional planning agency in Columbiana County was given endorsement Tuesday afternoon by the Board of Trustees of the Chamber of Commerce.

The proposal was given to the board after it was explained to the civic and community affairs committee a few weeks ago by Dean Wilhelm and William Black, representatives of the Calcutta Area Improvement Association.

Under the proposal, the regional agency to lay plans for orderly future growth could be established by the county government and any other city or village which has its own planning commission.

The Chamber board also designated George A. Shaw and Ralph A. Finley to serve on the Executive Committee of the East Liverpool Merchants Association. The action is taken annually following the election of officers by ELMA.

Following a long-standing custom, the board voted to dispense with its July and August meetings because of the vacation season. However, meetings could be arranged any time in the two months at the call of T. Fre[illegible] wards, president. The next regular meeting will be Sept. 13.

Calcutta Driver Cited In Elkton Area Crash

Lawrence Brewer, 41, of Calcutta was cited after his car swerved off County Rd. 419 about a half mile east of Elkton Tuesday afternoon, the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Brewer lost control on a curve and the car went left of center and struck guardrails, badly damaging the 1950 coach. The driver, who was unhurt, was charged with reckless operation, the patrol said.

League Start Delayed

SALINEVILLE — The opening of the Little League Baseball season scheduled for tonight has been postponed until Monday at 5 p. m. because the field is too wet for play. League officials asked that work parties report to the field Saturday and Sunday to prepare it for the opener.

Boys State Sets Up Militia For Mythical State

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Buckeye Boys State Adj. Gen. Charles Figgins of Bryan has organized a state militia for the mythical 51st state set up on the campus of Ohio University.

This was one of many items reported Tuesday by Gov. James E. White, elected head of the school in self-government sponsored by the American Legion. There are 1,171 high school juniors attending the sessions.

In addressing a joint session of the House and Senate of the "state," Gov. White announced that the budget for the fiscal year 1960-61 had been completed. He also told of a recount of election ballots in one county by Secretary of State Augustus Dampier of Massillon, and the quitting of six highway patrolmen who took better jobs.

Flag Presented School

Mrs. Raymond A. Akins, left, is shown accepting a new 50-star flag presented to St. Aloysius Parochial School by Mrs. Homer Huston, flag chairman for the Rebecca Griscom Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, at the annual Flag Day luncheon held Tuesday afternoon at the school auditorium.

Some 65 attended and the luncheon was served by the Catholic Daughters of America with Mrs. George Beck, chairman.

Robert Longsworth of Augusta, state representative and superintendent of Carroll County schools, was guest speaker. He discussed "For This We Live—In America." He gave a history of the flag and said "Americans should strive for higher ideals." "In observing Flag Day, we do not pay tribute to the flag in itself, but what it stands for," he said.

Vocal selection by Miss Jayne Smith Kata of Wellsville were "The Homing Heart," "Iris," "The House I Live In" and "Spring, Spring, Spring." She was accompanied by Mrs. Louise Lawton, supervisor of music in the Wellsville elementary schools.

Official Of Ferro Describes 'Dream Home' In Rotary Talk

Seeking to open up new sales markets in the field of porcelain enamel, the Ferro Corp. of Cleveland has undertaken with 22 other companies the construction of "the house that's never been built before."

Glenn Hutt, vice president of Ferro, parent firm of the Louthan Manufacturing Co. in East End, described the experimental dream home being constructed in Cleveland at the Rotary Club's luncheon meeting Tuesday in the Travelers Hotel.

Sixty per cent completed, the story-and-a-half home will feature the latest ideas in design with emphasis on beauty and convenience. Ice cube makers in the bedrooms and glass - covered sundecks with motor - controlled roofs are two of radical new ideas that will be incorporated in the experiment, Hutt said.

Ferro Corp., however, is most interested in certain other features of the house — the porcelain enamel roof and interior and exterior walls plus bathroom and kitchen equipment. The all-steel home, 40-x-32 feet, will have 1,280 feet of floor space.

Scheduled for completion next month, the home will be featured in nationally-circulated home and building magazines and may be viewed at Northfield Center, about 5 miles from the Route 8 interchange on the Ohio Turnpike.

Hutt emphasized that Ferro is not interested in expanding to the home construction field but is primarly concerned with finding new markets for porcelain enamel.

Hutt pointed out that two porcelain enamel homes were built in Chicago and Cleveland in 1932 but the idea failed to develop and led to the folding of the Lustron Corp.

He said that 65 per cent of porcelain enamel used in the home today goes for appliances. On a standard type range, about $4 to $6 is spent for the porcelain enamel, while only about 50 cents worth is found on the new built - in kitchen stoves.

Ferro Corp. has 13 plants in foreign countries, with most concentrating their production on porcelain enamel. The entire market for a year is 140 million pounds, he said.

Top designers and planners are co-operating in building the latest ideas in beauty and convenience into the experimental house, Hutt said. The bathroom tile will be furnished by the Summitville Tile Co. while a Canton firm will supply tile for the upstairs. Gas heating and electrical air - conditioning are planned. The price range will be in the $16,000 - $18,000 bracket, he said.

Hutt displayed color prints of the new home. He was introduced by Fred Layne, works manager of Louthan's. Charles Taylor, president, presided.

Plate Problem Solved By Junking 'Extra' Car

A man who had two cars and only one set of license plates—and those expired temporary tags, to boot — helped solve his problem by junking one of the autos after he appeared before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff Tuesday on a charge of improper registration.

Gail P. Freeman, 807 Oakwood Ave., was cited on the registration charge yesterday morning. He pleaded guilty when arraigned before the judge, then explained his problem to the court. The judge continued the case until afternoon.

Freeman appeared again in the afternoon, with documentary proof he had sold one of his two cars for junk for $15 and had obtained legal plates for the other car. Judge Chertoff imposed a fine of $10 and costs, but suspended the fine. Police said he was using a 10-day temporary plate, but it had expired. In addition, the plate was not issued for the car on which it was being used, police said.

Bryan Drops Charges As Jeweler Apologizes

Fire Chief Charles Bryan Tuesday withdrew charges which he had filed earlier in the day against Robert Schlang, Little Building jeweler, accusing the merchant of "abusing" the chief and Asst. Chief Alfred R. VanDyne Monday.

The chief said he requested Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff to withdraw the affidavit after Schlang apologized to both the chief and his assistant. Schlang also was accused of "interfering" with the two fire department officers "in the execution of their duties."

Although an affidavit was filed alleging the offense, no warrant had been issued at the time the chief decided to withdraw the charge. Authorities said the incident that led to the charge resulted when the two officials went to Schlang's store to talk with him about a flickering neon sign.

To Meet Kennedy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle says he expects to confer with U.S. Sen. John F. Kennedy, leading Democratic presidential prospect, before the nominating convention July 11. He added no time or place has been set for the meeting outside Ohio. He said he last talked with Kennedy by telephone Friday. The governor has promised to aid Kennedy's campaign for nomination with personal contact work before the convention.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Is there an art to getting out of a car gracefully? When I have school books to carry and a fellow drops me off in his car I seem to have a terrible time exiting like a lady. My skirt goes up and the tops of my stockings (including the garters) show. I know I must look like a clumsy ox.

Several of my girl friends have the same problem and none of us ever has seen a solution printed anywhere. Can you help us? Thank you.—OOPS E. DAISY.

Dear Daisy: Yes, there is an art to getting out of a car gracefully.

First, make sure the car has come to a dead stop before you try to get out. Many girls lose their balance because the car is still rolling when they open the door.

Next, gather your books and purse, cradling everything in one arm and with your free hand, open the door. Be sure to turn to make your exit, so you'll be heading out the door, not scootching out sideways. This will avoid the embarrassing exhibit of garters and petticoats. You're welcome.

Proud Husband

Dear Ann: I have a wonderful husband and maybe I have a lot of nerve to complain but I think he's wrong about something. He says I'm wrong. What do you say?

I come from a family of five children. My father is not wealthy but he is better than comfortable. He has given each of his married children a nice sum of money to help them along.

My husband does not believe in accepting money from parents. I hate to do anything against my husband's wishes but I feel that I'm entitled to the same amount as the others. Why should I pass up my share? Am I wrong?—DAILY READER.

—:—

Dear Daily: If the money is a wedding gift, I see no reason to turn it down. If it is NOT a wedding gift and your folks are in the habit of giving their married children money "to help them along" periodically, respect your husband's wishes and say, "No thanks."

Roaming Romeo

Dear Ann: I'm 17, a high school senior and make pretty good money baby sitting. The other night I sat for a new couple in the neighborhood. They are rather young parents (I'd guess they're in the middle 20s).

The other night when they got home it was almost 2:30 a.m. I was half asletp on the couch. Mr. X offered to walk me home. I said it wasn't necessary because I live less than a block away. He insisted, saying he'd feel better if he saw me to my door.

On the way home he kissed me. I was so shocked and it happened so fast there was nothing I could do to stop him.

I don't want to sit for them again but I don't know how to get out of it. Should I come right out and tell Mrs. X the reason?

Also, if my mother asks why I don't want to go over there, what shall I tell her? Do you think I should pass the word to my girl friends who may be called to sit for them? Please advise me. —THROUGH THERE.

Dear Through: Tell your mother why you can't sit for this family again. If she wishes to take it up with Mrs. X it's up to her. YOU, however, should not discuss the incident with the man's wife.

Don't blab the details around to your girl friends, please. It could be very hurtful to the young wife and from the sound of your letter she's going to have trouble enough with her roaming Romeo.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

TV Play Gives Startling Glimpse Of Spain

"The Play of the Week" wound up its first season in a burst of glory with a translation of "The House of Bernarda Alba" by the Spanish playwright, Federico Garcia Lorca, who died in The Spanish Civil War at the age of 37.

John Crosby

Not that "The House of Bernarda Alba" is the greatest play ever written. But is undubitably and proudly—I might almost say ferociously—Spanish; it is intelligent; it affords a terribly revealing glimpse into the heart and mind of a Spanish household and especially of Spanish women.

Since Spain is almost as foreign to our nature and to our culture as the Far East—the rest of Europe seems as understandable as New England next to Spain—the play has a fascination and exotic allure almost as compelling as "Medea," which opened the series.

IF LOUISE MAY ALCOTT had been Spanish, "Little Women" would have read like "The House of Bernarda Alba," a frightening thought. It is the story of five sisters, locked in the eternal jailhood which is the normal state of Spanish women from birth until death.

While all you emancipated damsels undoubtedly found this condition horrifyingly medieval, Spanish women have flourished under it thousands of years, far longer than Modern Womanhood and with a far lower incidence of neurosis. (Of course, a good many of them go stark, staring mad.)

The five sisters, under the rule of a tyrannical mother, snarl and snap at one another in a way that would have turned Louisa May Alcott into stone.

A lone caballero rides into their lives—you never see him or any other men in the play—and courts the richest and ugliest sister while secretly making love to the youngest and pretiest sister and inflaming the sensibilities of the hunchbacked sister.

THAT SEEMS like a tall order (perhaps it's just as well they kept this paragon of masculinity out of sight) but passion in Spain is nurtured on deprivation and that fans the flames to a degree almost inconceivable to the rest of us.

The play is a straight line of thwarted passion, perhaps a little too unrelievedly the same thing for us, but it has little slices of Spain, almost unconsciously, tucked into the very fabric of it that are educational.

The play opens with a funeral, so immediately you are ushered into the preoccupation with death which is so very Spanish.

A beggar woman and her beggar child come to the door begging for scraps and are driven heartlessly away by a servant who plans to take the scraps herself. The summer heat blazes. The mother (Bernarda Alba of the title) cruel, inflexible, tyrannical, announces to her cowering daughters:

"In the eight years of mourning, not a breath of fresh air shall come into this house."

THE STEELY female is too proud to let her daughters marry someone "not of their class," too proud also to move to another town where the daughters might meet someone of the right class but where she wouldn't be the richest woman in town.

And there you have all the elements of Spain—today, yesterday and always—death, poverty, heat, pride, cruelty and passion. It's remarkable to find them all contained so easily in a single household.

The play ends in black tragedy—the suicide of the passionate and seduced young sister, the despair of the other sisters, and the bitter cry of the mother: "I want no weeping. Death must be looked at face to face."

It was a beautifully realized production with some splendid acting: Eileen Heckhart as a steely housekeeper, Anne Revere as the tyrannical mother, Suzanne Pleshette as the young sister, Nancy Marchand as the rich sister, Lee Grant as the hunchbacked sister and Cathleen Nesbitt as the mad grandmother.

BORIS SAGAL directed, Lewis Freedman produced. It's nice to see the name of Worthington Miner, one of television's pioneers, as executive producer. He's been too long missing from television.

"The Play of the Week" has been both a noble and successful experiment. It has lured a whole class of people back to viewing television who had given it up in disgust. It laid some eggs (but then who hasn't) but its record has been astonishingly good, its aims wonderfully high.

A good many of the plays—notably "Medea," "Waltz of the Toreadors," "The White Steed"—are among the finest dramatic productions ever seen on television. When it erred, it erred aiming at the stars, and that's the way to do it.

Starting this week, WNTA inaugurated a "Movie of the Week" each Monday, which aims at quality, also. The first one was "The Prisoner of Zenda" with Ronald Coleman.

Health Unit Can Order Plumbers To Register

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The board of health of a general health district can require the registration of plumbers in the district, Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy said today.

The opinion to prosecutor Thomas A. Beil of Mahoning County said registration means the mere listing of those engaged in the plumbing business.

"This regulation does not attempt to set up any qualifications for registration," McElroy said. "Any person who wished to register could do so by merely asking that his name be put on the list and by paying the fee.

"Regarding a fee for registration, I believe that a reasonable fee could be charged" to cover the costs involved, the attorney general aid.

TV Play Gives Startling Glimpse Of Spain

"The Play of the Week" wound up its first season in a burst of glory with a translation of "The House of Bernarda Alba" by the Spanish playwright, Federico Garcia Lorca, who died in The Spanish Civil War at the age of 37. Not that "The House of Bernarda Alba" is the greatest play ever written. But is undubitably and proudly—I might almost say ferociously—Spanish; it is intelligent; it affords a terribly revealing glimpse into the heart and mind of a Spanish household and especially of Spanish women.

John Crosby

Since Spain is almost as foreign to our nature and to our culture as the Far East—the rest of Europe seems as understandable as New England next to Spain—the play has a fascination and exotic allure almost as compelling as "Medea," which opened the series.

-:-

IF LOUISE MAY ALCOTT had been Spanish, "Little Women" would have read like "The House of Bernarda Alba," a frightening thought. It is the story of five sisters, locked in the eternal jailhood which is the normal state of Spanish women from birth until death.

While all you emancipated damsels undoubtedly found this condition horrifyingly medieval, Spanish women have flourished under it thousands of years, far longer than Modern Womanhood and with a far lower incidence of neurosis. (Of course, a good many of them go stark, staring mad.)

The five sisters, under the rule of a tyrannical mother, snarl and snap at one another in a way that would have turned Louisa May Alcott into stone.

A lone caballero rides into their lives—you never see him or any other men in the play—and courts the richest and ugliest sister while secretly making love to the youngest and pretiest sister and inflaming the sensibilities of the hunchbacked sister.

THAT SEEMS like a tall order (perhaps it's just as well they kept this paragon of masculinity out of sight) but passion in Spain is nurtured on deprivation and that fans the flames to a degree almost inconceivable to the rest of us.

The play is a straight line of thwarted passion, perhaps a little too unrelievedly the same thing for us, but it has little slices of Spain, almost unconsciously, tucked into the very fabric of it that are educational.

The play opens with a funeral, so immediately you are ushered into the preoccupation with death which is so very Spanish.

A beggar woman and her beggar child come to the door begging for scraps and are driven heartlessly away by a servant who plans to take the scraps herself. The summer heat blazes. The mother (Bernarda Alba of the title) cruel, inflexible, tyrannical, announces to her cowering daughters:

"In the eight years of mourning, not a breath of fresh air shall come into this house."

THE STEELY female is too proud to let her daughters marry someone "not of their class," too proud also to move to another town where the daughters might meet someone of the right class but where she wouldn't be the richest woman in town.

And there you have all the elements of Spain—today, yesterday and always—death, poverty, heat, pride, cruelty and passion. It's remarkable to find them all contained so easily in a single household.

The play ends in black tragedy—the suicide of the passionate and seduced young sister, the despair of the other sisters, and the bitter cry of the mother: "I want no weeping. Death must be looked at face to face."

It was a beautifully realized production with some splendid acting: Eileen Heckhart as a steely housekeeper, Anne Revere as the tyrannical mother, Suzanne Pleshette as the young sister, Nancy Marchand as the rich sister, Lee Grant as the hunchbacked sister and Cathleen Nesbitt as the mad grandmother.

BORIS SAGAL directed, Lewis Freedman produced. It's nice to see the name of Worthington Miner, one of television's pioneers, as executive producer. He's been too long missing from television.

"The Play of the Week" has been both a noble and successful experiment. It has lured a whole class of people back tc viewing television who had given it up in disgust. It laid some eggs (but then who hasn't) but its record has been astonishingly good, its aims wonderfully high.

A good many of the plays—notably "Medea," "Waltz of the Toreadors," "The White Steed"—are among the finest dramatic productions ever seen on television. When it erred, it erred aiming at the stars, and that's the way to do it.

Starting this week, WNTA inaugurated a "Movie of the Week" each Monday, which aims at quality, also. The first one was "The Prisoner of Zenda" with Ronald Coleman.

Farm Youth Traveler Will Speak In Hancock

Samuel R. Tuckwiller, a West Virginia Farm Youth Exchangee to Argentina, will present an illustrated talk for Hancock County farmers and 4-H Club members Saturday night at 7:30 in the Jefferson Grange Hall on Swearingen Hill near New Cumberland.

One of the state's outstanding older 4-H Club members, Tuckwiller will screen color slides of his experiences living with farm families in Argentina for six months. The public is invited, Oliver Johnson, county agricultural agent, said.

Tuckwiller's trip was part of an international program to promote better understanding among the youth of different countries. His trip to Argentina was made possible by the voluntary contributions of individual 4-H Club members of West Virginia.

A graduate of West Virginia University in 1956, Tuckwiller received a bachelor of science degree in agriculture. He has since worked on his father's farm, which is devoted to the production of beef cattle, dairy cattle, sheep, hogs, hay, corn and small grain crops. His projects have included 11 years of both baby beef and feeder calf and one pen of market lambs.

S. R. TUCKWILLER
He'll Address 4-H Groups.

Tuckwiller has won honors in 4-H livestock judging contests and in 1954, attended the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago as the state winner in the meat animal project. He has won many prizes with his cattle and in cattle showmanship competition.

Mr. And Mrs Paul Bussard 'At Home' In Ohio Township

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bussard of Ohio Township are at home following a honeymoon trip to Virginia Beach.

Their marriage took place June 4 in the Four-Mile United Presbyterian Church. The bride is the former Miss Donna Vukas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Vukas of Blackhawk Rd., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Bussard of Ohio Township. The Rev. Ray McCreight read the double-ring rites before the altar banked with palms and ferns.

Mrs. Robert Herron of Dawson Ridge gave a recital of traditional melodies on the organ.

White nylon organza fashioned the bride's floor-length gown. A scoop neckline, trimmed with rhinestones enhanced the sculptured bodice and long, pointed sleeves. Her bouffant skirt ended in a chapel train. A crown of rhinestones held her fingertip veil of imported illusion. All the familiar traditions were observed.

Vukas escorted and gave his daughter in marriage.

Miss Joan Crawford of South Beaver Township, maid of honor, wore a yellow waltz-length gown of nylon organza styled with square neckline and short sleeves.

A fitted bodice enhanced the bouffant skirt. She wore a matching Dior bow in her hair. Carnations tinted to match were arranged in a cascade effect.

Misses Helen Vosovic of the New Salem Church Rd., Nancy Evans of East Palestine and Patricia Prodonovich of Midland were bridesmaids. Their gowns and headbands, patterned identically to those of the maid of honor, were pale green. Their bouquets were of carnations tinted to match their outfits.

Keith Bussard of East Liverpool served his brother as best man. Ushers included Donald Freeborn of Midland Heights, James Plecas of Fairview Rd. and Rodney Callihan of Hillcrest Manor.

The bride presented her attendants with a gift of earrings and matching necklace.

Mrs. Vukas chose a light sheath dress with white accessories. Mrs. Bussard wore a gown of pink lace and white accessories. Both wore corsages of pink rosebuds.

The bride's parents entertained 400 guests at a reception in the South Beaver fire hall in the evening. A five-tiered cake, topped with miniature bridal pair within a heart and decorated in yellow and green, centered the bridal table. Green, yellow and white streamers and white wedding bells decorated the hall.

The bride, a graduate of Northwestern High School, is employed at G. C. Murphy Co. in Midland. Her husband, a graduate of Midland High School, works at the Crucible Steel Co. in Midland.

Bermuda is approximately 568 nautical miles east of Cape Hatteras, the nearest point of continental land.

Hancock BPW Delegates Return From State Event

Five delegates from the Panhandle Business & Professional Womens Club have returned from the annual meeting of the Interim Board held over the weekend at Blackwater Falls State Park at Davis, W. Va.

Wildcat Walkout Ends

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—A four-day wildcat walkout at Ford Motor Co's compact car and truck assembly plant here ended with Tuesday night's first shift when the full complement of about 2,000 workers reported. The strike, a protest over suspension of a union committeeman for "disrespect for proper authority," was not sanctioned by United Auto Workers Local 425. A court injunction against picketing issued late Monday was served Tuesday and brought the walkout to an end.

Overcrowding In Elementary Schools Cited In NEA Survey

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nearly one-third of a million pupils in public elementary schools were on half-day sessions during the 1959-60 school year, the National Education Assn. reported today.

More than two million others were victims of overcrowding in classrooms of more than 35 pupils each, the NEA said. There were 290 classrooms with 56 or more pupils.

In a survey of urban school districts with a population of 2,500 or more, the NEA found the average classroom size was 29½ pupils. The larger the school district, the more likely there is to be overcrowding and half-day sessions.

Educators have long urged a maximum of 25 pupils per classroom in the elementary grades, to provide the children with more individual attention. This, however, is an ideal figure not often reached in city schools, and a more practical goal is 30 pupils to a class.

The NEA survey showed more than 13 million children in urban elementary schools. Of these, almost 11 million are in classes of more than 25, about 6½ million in classes of more than 30, more than 2 million in classes of more than 35, about 380,000 in classes of more than 40, and more than 71,000 in classes of more than 45.

How Can I

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I wash out a chamois properly?

A. A chamois should be washed in mild soap and lukewarm water, and rinsed in soapy water so that the soap residue will prevent its getting stiff. After washing, wrap the chamois in a towel until it's almost dry, and then soften it by rubbing between your hands.

Q. How can I prepare potatoes for baking?

A. Potatoes that are to be baked should be soaked in hot water for about a half-hour, then wiped dry, and rubbed with butter. They will bake more quickly and be mealier.

Q. How can I improvise some shoe polish when I find that I am out of the real thing?

A. Try using some of your paste floor wax, which is neutral in color and can be used on either dark or light shoes.

Completes Oil Quest

CONNEAUT, Ohio (AP) — The New York Natural Gas Corp. wound up today its two-year-long quest for oil under Lake Erie in a 19,130-acre tract near the Ohio-Pennsylvania border and a 16,580-acre tract near the Pennsylvania-New York line. Three barge loads of pipe and other equipment were towed to city docks here Tuesday, and a giant drilling platform is being towed to Erie, Pa. today. Neither drilling operation in the lake showed gas of commercial quantity.

Retired Street Worker Cited

Samuel C. Miller of Gardendale, who retired June 1 after nearly 39 years' service with the street department, was honored Monday night at a dinner by fellow members of Local 677, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes.

Twenty - five attended the testimonial at Tice's Restaurant. Miller was presented with two framed photographs of himself posing with fishing tackle which the local presented him at the time of his retirement.

Remarks were made by Street Supt. W. M. Laughlin, Sewer Inspector Floyd E. Tice, who formerly headed the street department for 11 years, and Dan Bowers, president of the local. Miller replied, saying his present retirement plans are to "sit around and maybe do some fishing."

The regular meeting of the local followed, in which new officers were installed by Laughlin, a past president.

They are: Bowers, president; Everett Horner Jr., vice president; Harry McKinnon, treasurer; Tice, secretary; Paul Allison, outer guard, and Ken Kinsey, E. B. Laughlin and Thomas Anderson, trustees.

Terms are for one year. The officers were elected in May.

The next meeting will be July 11.

How Can I

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I wash out a chamois properly?

A. A chamois should be washed in mild soap and lukewarm water, and rinsed in soapy water so that the soap residue will prevent its getting stiff. After washing, wrap the chamois in a towel until it's almost dry, and then soften it by rubbing between your hands.

Q. How can I prepare potatoes for baking?

A. Potatoes that are to be baked should be soaked in hot water for about a half-hour, then wiped dry, and rubbed with butter. They will bake more quickly and be mealier.

Q. How can I improvise some shoe polish when I find that I am out of the real thing?

A. Try using some of your paste floor wax, which is neutral in color and can be used on either dark or light shoes.

Completes Oil Quest

CONNEAUT, Ohio (AP) — The New York Natural Gas Corp. wound up today its two-year-long quest for oil under Lake Erie in a 19,130-acre tract near the Ohio-Pennsylvania border and a 16,580-acre tract near the Pennsylvania-New York line. Three barge loads of pipe and other equipment were towed to city docks here Tuesday, and a giant drilling platform is being towed to Erie, Pa. today. Neither drilling operation in the lake showed gas of commercial quantity.

Bucs Own 2-Game Lead After Topping Giants In Opener

Cards Carry Jackson To 8th Straight

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Pittsburgh Pirates have a two-game lead after getting past San Francisco in the opener of a three-game series, but right-hander Larry Jackson and the surging St. Louis Cardinals are stealing the spotlight in the National League pennant race.

Four unearned runs gave the Pirates a 6-3 decision over the second-place Giants Tuesday night while the Cardinals backed Jackson with home runs for his eighth straight victory in a 6-3 decision over Cincinnati.

It gave Jackson (9-5) a tie with Pittsburgh's Vern Law as the majors' top winning pitcher, and moved the Cards past the Reds into fourth place.

The Chicago Cubs defeated third place Milwaukee 3-2 behind a two-hit pitching job by Glen Hobbie. Last-place Philadelphia defeated Los Angeles 6-5 in 10 innings.

In the American League, Baltimore moved within one percentage point of first-place Cleveland by beating the Indians 7-4 in the first of four games with the Tribe. The third-place New York Yankees edged within three points of the top by winning their seventh in a row, 6-2, at Kansas City as Jim Coates (7-0) won his 11th straight since last June. Detroit beat Boston 2-1. Wet grounds postponed Washington's game at Chicago.

Jackson, 29, a winner against every club but Los Angeles, gave up five hits and just one earned run — a fourth-inning homer by Jerry Lynch. Ken Boyer and Curt Flood, who drove in four runs, homered off loser Jim O'Toole (4-6) for the Cards' sixth victory in the last nine games.

Boyer's shot, with a man on in the first inning, was his 17th, keeping him in a tie with Ernie Banks of the Cubs for the NL lead.

A two-out error by Willie McCovey with the bases loaded set up three unearned runs in the second inning for the Pirates. Dick Groat's two-run single capped it and beat Sam Jones (8-5), who lost his first in eight decisions at Candlestick Park. Bob Friend (8-3) was the winner. Hobbie, a right-hander with an 8-2 lifetime record against Milwaukee, held the Braves hitless for seven innings, then gave up home runs by Del Crandall and Ed Mathews in the eighth and ninth. The Cubs had five hits off loser Bob Buhl (5-3), two of them home runs by Banks and Frank Thomas.

A single by Clay Dalrymple scored two runs and won it for the Phils in a three-run 10th off losing reliever Clem Labine (0-1). The Dodgers blew a 3-2 lead in the ninth. Dick Farrell (3-1) won it in relief, getting Norm Larker on a pop up for the final out with the tying run on second after giving up two runs in the Dodger 10th.

LaMotta Confesses To Fixed Fight Before Senate

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators called a self-styled underworld money lender from a prison cell to testify today in its hearings on high level scandals in professional boxing.

From the voluble convict, Irving Mishel, they sought inside information about money deals in the promotion of bouts.

As a witness before the Senate rackets committee last year, Mishel told a detailed story of loaning "many, many millions" at usurious interest rates as a sort of unofficial banker for New York underworld figures.

He is serving 10 to 20 years in Clinton State Prison at Dannemora, N.Y., for grand larceny of about $60,000 worth of securities in a complex money deal.

Just where his testimony might fit into the boxing probe the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee refused to say in advance, except that it would deal with "money transactions in boxing."

As the hearings opened Tuesday, former middleweight champion Jake LaMotta testified he purposely lost a fixed fight in 1947 to Billy Fox.

He said he had been offered—and had rejected—offers of $100,000 each to lose that fight and another the same year to Tony Janiro. He won the bout with Janiro.

He agreed to take a dive in the Fox fight, he said, in return for the promise of a shot at the middleweight title. Despite the agreement, LaMotta testified he had to pay $20,000 to get the bout in which he won the championship nearly two years later from Marcel Cerdan.

Cerdan's American representatives, Lew Bernstein and Sammy Richman of New York, testified they had received no money for arranging the bout, and had never heard of any payoff.

The LaMotta-Fox bout, which was stopped by the referee in the fourth round, was investigated both by the New York State Athletic Commission and by the office of New York Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan. Neither the commission nor a grand jury reported finding anything wrong.

A spokesman for Hogan said Tuesday night that "now that the statute of limitations has run out, Mr. LaMotta is saying what he refused to say at the time."

LaMotta conceded he lied during the earlier investigations.

LaMotta also repudiated a statement the Senate investigators said he had made to them this year. The statement, entered in the record anyhow, named Frank (Blinky) Palermo and Bill Daly as the men who offered him $100,000 to throw the Fox fight, and Thomas Milo, now dead, as the one who promised him a title fight.

Over Cannon Issue

'Brush Fires' Are Blazing Again Between AFL, NFL

NEW YORK (AP)—Two small "brush fire" wars between the entrenched National Football League and the neophyte American Football League were raging today—and the AFL appeared to be ahead in both.

In Los Angeles, the Rams of the NFL failed, at least temporarily, to get into evidence details of a $100,000-plus contract signed by All-America Bill Cannon with Houston of the AFL.

U. S. Dist. Judge William J. Lindberg ruled that such evidence if permissable at all, should be introduced later in the Rams' injunction suit to keep Cannon from performing with any other team.

The Rams contend Cannon breached a contract he signed with them for a $10,000 bonus, plus $50,000 for 1960-61-62. Cannon's attorneys claim the documents are merely "pieces of paper."

There was a long court argument over the Rams signing Cannon, a Louisiana State University star, before the Sugar Bowl game last Jan. 1. There was some question over whether the Rams were guilty of professionalizing him.

In New York and Chicago, a war of words raged between Harry Wismer, president of the New York Titans of the AFL and owner-coach George Halas of the Chicago Bears of the NFL.

"The kid flunked out of school," said Wismer. "He can't get into any other college. He wants to play football. All I know about the rule is that we aren't supposed to sign a boy until his class graduates.

"But this case is different. We have not induced the boy to leave school. We are trying to help him."

Wismer blasted Halas, who had warned that the signing of undergraduates by AFL clubs could lead to wholesale raids of colleges.

"I know why Halas is mad," fumed Wismer. "He wanted the boy himself."

Golden Star, Travelers Win Second-Half Openers In LL

Golden Star and Travelers Hotel opened second half play in the American Division of the Little League with victories Tuesday.

Golden Star, the first round champs, scored a 7-3 win over Millirons while Travelers handed Homer Laughlin an 8-4 setback.

Mike McFarland gave up six hits and was the winner for Golden Star. He struck out seven. Blaine Clenndening with two singles and Mike McFarland's double sparked the winners.

Tom Spooner stroked a pair of singles for the losers.

Collecting 10 hits, Travelers chalked up its victory as Jack Myler tossed a five-hitter and Mike Silliman provided the heavy bat.

Silliman clubbed a home run and two doubles. Blythe and Walker had two hits each for the losers.

Indians Are Clinging To First Place After 7-4 Loss To Baltimore

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians, still in first place, but feeling the hot breath of the Baltimore Orioles and New York Yankees, have some new troubles—infield injuries.

Second baseman John Temple played in Tuesday night's marathon 7-4 loss to the Orioles, but he is bothered by a bruised ankle.

Ken Aspromonte, who filled in so well for the former National Leaguer when he hurt the ankle last month, has a knee injury.

Third baseman Bubba Phillips was hit on the left elbow his first time at bat and the arm was swollen badly before the finish of the game.

The Indians play a twi-night doubleheader with the Orioles tonight, but Manager Joe Gordon may be hunting for infielders.

"Phillips certainly is doubtful and I don't know about Aspromonte," said Gordon. "Ken's knee seems much better after the treatment. He should be available for pinch hitting or a few innings at any rate."

Gordon named Jim Perry (6-2) and Bobby Locke (1-0) to face Baltimore's Hal (Skinny) Brown (6-2) and rookie Steve Barber (5-2).

Gary Bell (6-5) failed once again for the Indians Tuesday night, although he gave up only five hits and two runs in the six innings he hurled. But he was in constant trouble. The Indians trailed 2-1 when Dick Stigman took over in the seventh.

The young southpaw relief hurler was tagged for three straight hits after two were out—singles by Al Pilarcik and Gene Woodling and a solid double by Jim Gentile, which scored a run.

Stigman loaded the bases with none out in the eighth frame. Then a downpour hit the stadium, one of many interruptions that pushed the contest to 4½ hours. This time the game was delayed for 77 minutes.

Johnny Klippstein relieved Stigman and was way below form. Four runs crossed the plate before Klippstein could retire the side.

That 7-1 margin became too much for the Tribe, although the hitters gave it a good try in their half of the eighth.

Pecking away for singles—they collected a toal of 13—the Indians loaded the bases against starter and winner Milt Pappas (4-5), on hits by Woodie Held and Hank Foiles, plus a walk to Phillips.

Then Bob Hale got one run across with a sacrifice fly. After Temple walked to refill the bases, Jimmy Piersall ripped a two-run single through the middle of the diamond. That sent Pappas to the showers.

Jerry Walker came in to do the pitching—and shut the door on the Indians. He retired Harvey Kuenn for the final out.

Tito Francona walked to open the ninth and Vic Power drilled his third hit. But Walker then set down Held, Foiles and pinch-swinger John Romano, all representing the potential tying runs.

The Cubs had five hits off loser Bob Buhl (5-3), two of them home runs by Banks and Frank Thomas.

A single by Clay Dalrymple scored two runs and won it for the Phils in a three-run 10th off losing reliever Clem Labine (0-1). The Dodgers blew a 3-2 lead in the ninth. Dick Farrell (3-1) won it in relief, getting Norm Larker on a pop up for the final out with the tying run on second after giving up two runs in the Dodger 10th.

LaMotta Confesses To Fixed Fight Before Senate

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators called a self-styled underworld money lender from a prison cell to testify today in its hearings on high level scandals in professional boxing.

From the voluble convict, Irving Mishel, they sought inside information about money deals in the promotion of bouts.

As a witness before the Senate rackets committee last year, Mishel told a detailed story of loaning "many, many millions" at usurious interest rates as a sort of unofficial banker for New York underworld figures.

He is serving 10 to 20 years in Clinton State Prison at Dannemora, N.Y., for grand larceny of about $60,000 worth of securities in a complex money deal.

Just where his testimony might fit into the boxing probe the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee refused to say in advance, except that it would deal with "money transactions in boxing."

As the hearings opened Tuesday, former middleweight champion Jake LaMotta testified he purposely lost a fixed fight in 1947 to Billy Fox.

He said he had been offered—and had rejected—offers of $100,000 each to lose that fight and another the same year to Tony Janiro. He won the bout with Janiro.

He agreed to take a dive in the Fox fight, he said, in return for the promise of a shot at the middleweight title. Despite the agreement, LaMotta testified he had to pay $20,000 to get the bout in which he won the championship nearly two years later from Marcel Cerdan.

Cerdan's American representatives, Lew Bernstein and Sammy Richman of New York, testified they had received no money for arranging the bout, and had never heard of any payoff.

The LaMotta-Fox bout, which was stopped by the referee in the fourth round, was investigated both by the New York State Athletic Commission and by the office of New York Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan. Neither the commission nor a grand jury reported finding anything wrong.

A spokesman for Hogan said Tuesday night that "now that the statute of limitations has run out, Mr. LaMotta is saying what he refused to say at the time."

LaMotta conceded he lied during the earlier investigations.

LaMotta also repudiated a statement the Senate investigators said he had made to them this year. The statement, entered in the record anyhow, named Frank (Blinky) Palermo and Bill Daly as the men who offered him $100,000 to throw the Fox fight, and Thomas Milo, now dead, as the one who promised him a title fight.

Over Cannon Issue

'Brush Fires' Are Blazing Again Between AFL, NFL

NEW YORK (AP)—Two small "brush fire" wars between the entrenched National Football League and the neophyte American Football League were raging today—and the AFL appeared to be ahead in both.

In Los Angeles, the Rams of the NFL failed, at least temporarily, to get into evidence details of a $100,000-plus contract signed by All-America Bill Cannon with Houston of the AFL.

U. S. Dist. Judge William J. Lindberg ruled that such evidence if permissable at all, should be introduced later in the Rams' injunction suit to keep Cannon from performing with any other team.

The Rams contend Cannon breached a contract he signed with them for a $10,000 bonus, plus $50,000 for 1960-61-62. Cannon's attorneys claim the documents are merely "pieces of paper."

There was a long court argument over the Rams signing Cannon, a Louisiana State University star, before the Sugar Bowl game last Jan. 1. There was some question over whether the Rams were guilty of professionalizing him.

In New York and Chicago, a war of words raged between Harry Wismer, president of the New York Titans of the AFL and owner-coach George Halas of the Chicago Bears of the NFL.

Wismer defended the signing of Jack Sherer, sophomore University of Miami tackle, before his class graduates.

"The kid flunked out of school," said Wismer. "He can't get into any other college. He wants to play football. All I know about the rule is that we aren't supposed to sign a boy until his class graduates.

"But this case is different. We have not induced the boy to leave school. We are trying to help him."

Wismer blasted Halas, who had warned that the signing of undergraduates by AFL clubs could lead to wholesale raids of colleges.

"I know why Halas is mad," fumed Wismer. "He wanted the boy himself."

Golden Star, Travelers Win Second-Half Openers In LL

Golden Star and Travelers Hotel opened second half play in the American Division of the Little League with victories Tuesday.

Golden Star, the first round champs, scored a 7-3 win over Millirons while Travelers handed Homer Laughlin an 8-4 setback.

Mike McFarland gave up six hits and was the winner for Golden Star. He struck out seven. Blaine Clenndening with two singles and Mike McFarland's double sparked the winners.

Tom Spooner stroked a pair of singles for the losers.

Collecting 10 hits, Travelers chalked up its victory as Jack Myler tossed a five-hitter and Mike Silliman provided the heavy bat.

Silliman clubbed a home run and two doubles. Blythe and Walker had two hits each for the losers.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Lloyd Williams, 28, has been appointed head football coach at suburban Fairborn High School. Williams succeeds Carroll (Jake) Van Schoyck who resigned in April to become head gridiron coach at Wilmington College. Williams has been assistant football coach at Cincinnati Hughes High School.

Indians Are Clinging To First Place After 7-4 Loss To Baltimore

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians, still in first place, but feeling the hot breath of the Baltimore Orioles and New York Yankees, have some new troubles—infield injuries.

Second baseman John Temple played in Tuesday night's marathon 7-4 loss to the Orioles, but he is bothered by a bruised ankle.

Ken Aspromonte, who filled in so well for the former National Leaguer when he hurt the ankle last month, has a knee injury.

Third baseman Bubba Phillips was hit on the left elbow his first time at bat and the arm was swollen badly before the finish of the game.

The Indians play a twi-night doubleheader with the Orioles tonight, but Manager Joe Gordon may be hunting for infielders.

"Phillips certainly is doubtful and I don't know about Aspromonte," said Gordon. "Ken's knee seems much better after the treatment. He should be available for pinch hitting or a few innings at any rate."

Gordon named Jim Perry (6-2) and Bobby Locke (1-0) to face Baltimore's Hal (Skinny) Brown (6-2) and rookie Steve Barber (5-2).

Gary Bell (6-5) failed once again for the Indians Tuesday night, although he gave up only five hits and two runs in the six innings he hurled. But he was in constant trouble. The Indians trailed 2-1 when Dick Stigman took over in the seventh.

The young southpaw relief hurler was tagged for three straight hits after two were out—singles by Al Pilarcik and Gene Woodling and a solid double by Jim Gentile, which scored a run.

Stigman loaded the bases with none out in the eighth frame. Then a downpour hit the stadium, one of many interruptions that pushed the contest to 4½ hours. This time the game was delayed for 77 minutes.

Johnny Klippstein relieved Stigman and was way below form. Four runs crossed the plate before Klippstein could retire the side.

That 7-1 margin became too much for the Tribe, although the hitters gave it a good try in their half of the eighth.

Pecking away for singles—they collected a toal of 13—the Indians loaded the bases against starter and winner Milt Pappas (4-5), on hits by Woodie Held and Hank Foiles, plus a walk to Phillips.

Then Bob Hale got one run across with a sacrifice fly. After Temple walked to refill the bases, Jimmy Piersall ripped a two-run single through the middle of the diamond. That sent Pappas to the showers.

Jerry Walker came in to do the pitching—and shut the door on the Indians. He retired Harvey Kuenn for the final out.

Tito Francona walked to open the ninth and Vic Power drilled his third hit. But Walker then set down Held, Foiles and pinch-swinger John Romano, all representing the potential tying runs.

Indians Sign Beres, Ohio State U. Hurler

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians have signed Dick Beres, 21-year-old southpaw pitcher for Ohio State University and a former Tribe batboy. He was assigned to the Burlingon (N.C.) farm in the Class B Carolina League.

Beres, a Cleveland boy who starred at Benedictine High School, turned in a 3-1 mark for the Buckeyes this spring.

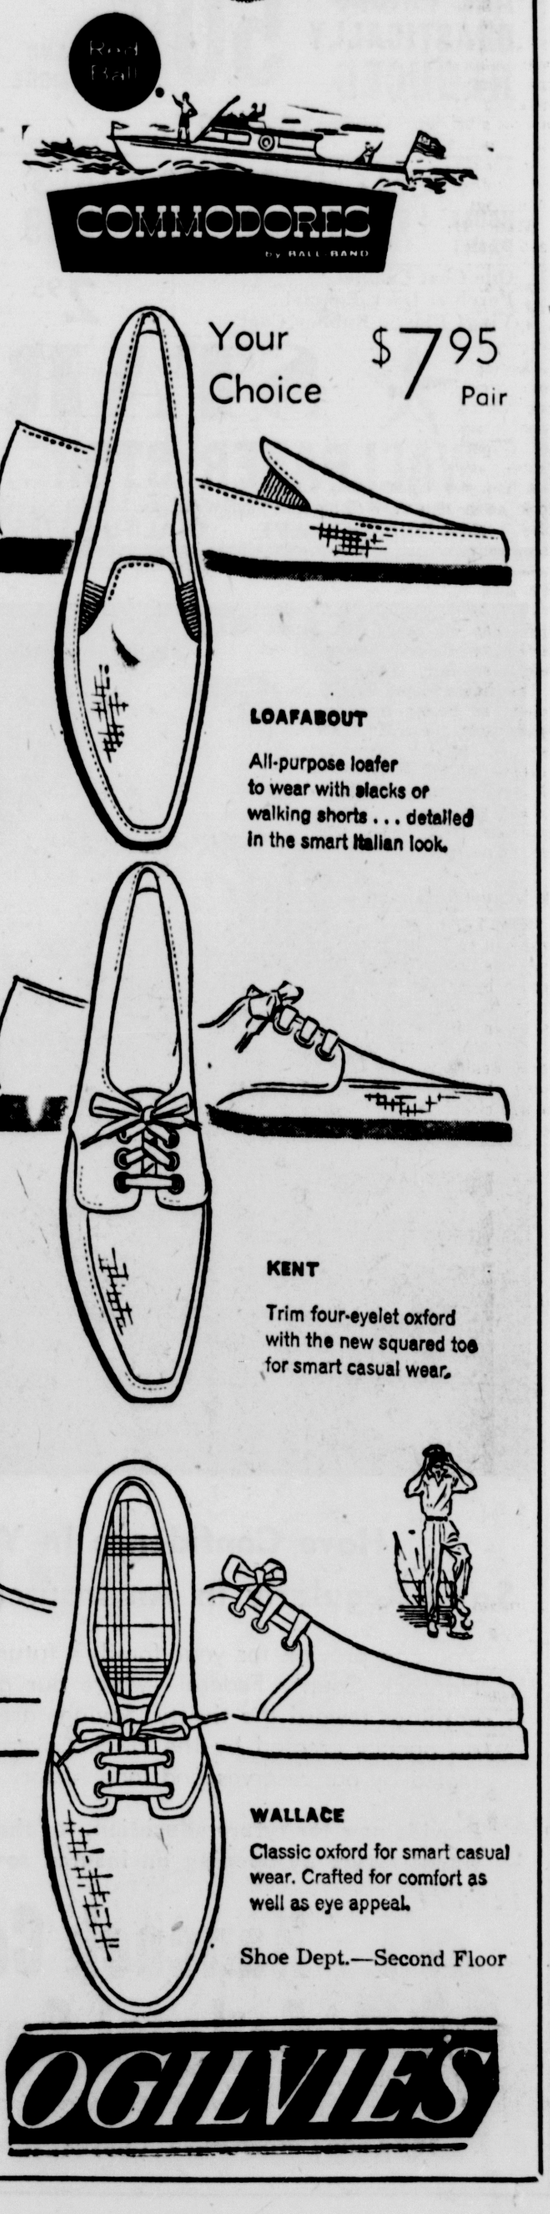

The 6-foot-1, 195-pounder worked out regularly with the Indians in 1956 when he was the club's batboy. He often pitched batting practice.

Yesterday's Stars

Hitting — Roger Maris, Yankees, drove in five runs with a home run, double and single in 6-2 victory over the A's.

Yankees Close In On Indians After Gaining 7th Straight

Maris Drives In Five Runs; Smacks No. 18

By The Associated Press

Nine years ago Jim Coates signed with the New York Yankees because his mother didn't like the looks of another club's scout. Now, after seven seasons in the minors, he is the hottest pitcher in the majors and has put the Yanks within three percentage points of the American League lead.

The lean right-hander put away a 7-0 record and his 11th consecutive victory over a year's span Tuesday night as the third-place Yankees won their seventh straight, 6-2 at Kansas City. That gave New York the longest streak of the season in the AL while closing in on the front-stumbling Cleveland Indians and Baltimore Orioles.

The Orioles edged within one percentage point of the top by handing the Indians a third straight defeat, 7-4, in the opener of a four-game series at Cleveland.

Detroit defeated Boston 2-1 in the only other game played in the AL. Wet grounds at Chicago postponed the White Sox' game with Washington.

In the National League, Pittsburgh gained a two-game lead over San Francisco by beating the Giants 6-3. The Chicago Cubs defeated Milwaukee 3-2 on Glen Hobbie's two-hitter. St. Louis beat Cincinnati 6-3 as Larry Jackson won his eighth in a row. Philadelphia defeated Los Angeles 6-5 in 10 innings.

Roger Maris kept his major lead home run lead with No. 18 and drove in five runs for the Yankees. It was the Yankees' eighth in a row over the A's, sixth this season, and handed Johnny Kucks a 1-1 record.

Coates, 27, didn't allow a hit until Dick Williams homered with one out in the fifth. He finished with a six-hitter for a 13-1 major league mark and a perfect record as a starting pitcher.

A four-run eighth-inning—which took an hour and 42 minutes to play because of rain—did it for the Orioles. Al Pilarcik's squeeze bunt scored the clincher and Gene Woodling then capped the rally with a two-run single. Gary Bell (6-5) was the loser. Milt Pappas (4-5) won it, but needed relief help from Jerry Walker.

The Tigers ruined Mike Higgins' return as Boston manager when pinch-hitter Norm Cash socked a two-run, two-out homer in the seventh off Bill Monbouquette (5-6). Jim Bunning (4-3) struck out 13 and gave up all four Red Sox hits—one Ted Williams' 498th career home run.

Pony League Games Are Rescheduled

Two Pony League games, postponed due to wet grounds Monday and Tuesday, have been rescheduled. The Litten's - Burbick's game which was scheduled for Monday will be played tonight at Dopler Field and the Woodbine - Golden Star contest originally set for Tuesday will be played Saturday.

Commission Will Correct 2 Ohio Tracks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Racing Commission wants assurances from two tracks that they are complying with horse racing regulations.

River Downs thoroughbred track at Cincinnati will be asked to present evidence that it is complying with the rule that 85 per cent of all employes by Ohio residents.

The new Scioto Downs harness track south of Columbus will be asked to demonstrate that various violations noted by a commission inspector—such as having no doctor on duty some nights — have been corrected.

Commission Chairman Harry M. Hoffheimer of Cincinnati said the tracks will have 10 days after receipt of the commission's notice to reply.

In other matters Tuesday, an official of the United States Trotting Association recommended that a mobile trailer laboratory be used to test horses before races at harness tracks.

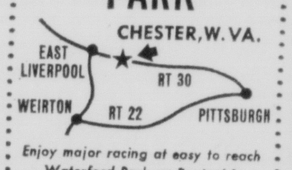

Edward F. Hackett of Columbus, USTA secretary, made the suggestion, which Hoffheimer indicated might be applied to thoroughbred tracks "if it has merit." But the commission took no action, merely saying that chemists and other experts could come in to discuss the matter at a later date if the USTA wishes to pursue it further.

Besides discouraging attempts at stimulation, Hackett said, pre-race testing of the horses' saliva and urine could help avoid the embarrassment created when traces of medication administered earlier by veterinarians are found in post-race tests. This has sometimes led to entirely mistaken charges of doping, he declared.

Because rain cancelled some racing at the Painesville Raceway operation, which uses the northeast Ohio Northfield Park facilities, the commission agreed to extend the meet one day to June 27. It also agreed to the request of Randall Park Jockey Club for a ninth race each day of its July 16-Sept. 5 season.

Don Osborne, 1959 manager of the Wilson team in the Carolina League, pitched for 14 seasons in the Pacific Coast League.

Yankees Close In On Indians After Gaining 7th Straight

Maris Drives In Five Runs; Smacks No. 18

By The Associated Press

Nine years ago Jim Coates signed with the New York Yankees because his mother didn't like the looks of another club's scout. Now, after seven seasons in the minors, he is the hottest pitcher in the majors and has put the Yanks within three percentage points of the American League lead.

The lean right-hander put away a 7-0 record and his 11th consecutive victory over a year's span Tuesday night as the third-place Yankees won their seventh straight, 6-2 at Kansas City. That gave New York the longest streak of the season in the AL while closing in on the front-stumbling Cleveland Indians and Baltimore Orioles.

The Orioles edged within one percentage point of the top by handing the Indians a third straight defeat, 7-4, in the opener of a four-game series at Cleveland.

Detroit defeated Boston 2-1 in the only other game played in the AL. Wet grounds at Chicago postponed the White Sox' game with Washington.

In the National League, Pittsburgh gained a two-game lead over San Francisco by beating the Giants 6-3. The Chicago Cubs defeated Milwaukee 3-2 on Glen Hobbie's two-hitter. St. Louis beat Cincinnati 6-3 as Larry Jackson won his eighth in a row. Philadelphia defeated Los Angeles 6-5 in 10 innings.

Roger Maris kept his major lead home run lead with No. 18 and drove in five runs for the Yankees. It was the Yankees' eighth in a row over the A's, sixth this season, and handed Johnny Kucks a 1-1 record.

Coates, 27, didn't allow a hit until Dick Williams homered with one out in the fifth. He finished with a six-hitter for a 13-1 major league mark and a perfect record as a starting pitcher.

A four-run eighth-inning—which took an hour and 42 minutes to play because of rain—did it for the Orioles. Al Pilarcik's squeeze bunt scored the clincher and Gene Woodling then capped the rally with a two-run single. Gary Bell (6-5) was the loser. Milt Pappas (4-5) won it, but needed relief help from Jerry Walker.

The Tigers ruined Mike Higgins' return as Boston manager when pinch-hitter Norm Cash socked a two-run, two-out homer in the seventh off Bill Monbouquette (5-6). Jim Bunning (4-3) struck out 13 and gave up all four Red Sox hits—one Ted Williams' 498th career home run.

Pony League Games Are Rescheduled

Two Pony League games, postponed due to wet grounds Monday and Tuesday, have been rescheduled. The Litten's - Burbick's game which was scheduled for Monday will be played tonight at Dopler Field and the Woodbine - Golden Star contest originally set for Tuesday will be played Saturday.

Always First, Second

NEW YORK (AP) — When the 4-year-old bay colt Yes You Will tied the seven-furlong Aqueduct record by taking the Carter Handicap, it marked the fourth win in seven 1960 starts for Mrs. E. L. Price's thoroughbred. The horse was second in his other two starts, both stakes. In the Carter he was clocked in 1:22.2 with Jockey Larry Adams.

59 Children Register In Wellsville Story Hour

Rapt attention is given Mrs. Gladys Kozora, the story teller, by children as the annual story hour program opened Tuesday afternoon at the Wellsville Carnegie Library. Fifty-nine registered for the first session.

The project is being sponsored by the Wellsville Junior Chamber of Commerce. More than 100 have registered for the book club for older children, the Jaycees said.

Boys and girls who will be entering the first, second or third grades in September are eligible for the story hour, which will be held for 5 consecutive Tuesday afternoons at 1:30.

Stu Wilson of Wellsville, radio and television personality, will be the story teller next week. He will present "Adventures of Dr. Doolittle" (Lofting), a story about a man who talks to animals.

The book club started Thursday. "Alaska, Our 49th State" is the theme. Students entering the fourth, fifh and sixth grades next term are eligible. Registration still is open.

The children are required to read five fiction and five nonfiction books. They do not have to be about Alaska.

Assisting in the program are Miss Mary Clark, librarian; Mrs. Vivian Findley, assistant librarian; Janet Birch, who is completing work on a Girl Scout pin; Mrs. J. F. Russell, and Carol Rose and Judith Rose, and Ann Daugherty, Becky Lewis, Sara Cowls and Becky McIntosh, members of the High School Library Club.

Jaycee wives are operating the program with Mrs. Monell Stoll as chairman. A party for those taking part in both programs will be held July 21. Art (Happy Dayze) Jennings, a professional clown, will present an act.

Dealer Faces Check Charge

William McLaughlin, former operator of a Dresden Ave. used car lot, was served today with a warrant alleging he issued a fraudulent $2,300 check on a Wheeling bank.

The warrant was served by Deputy James P. Miller of Columbiana County for the Ohio County sheriff's office at Wheeling as McLaughlin walked out of Municipal Court following a parting of the ways with his counsel in a hearing before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

McLaughlin is charged in the local court with having sold an auto to a Shadyside Ave. man without delivering a certificate of title in the time required by law.

The Ohio County affidavit alleges McLaughlin "forged and uttered" a $2,300 check Feb. 5, made payable to Bill McLaughlin Used Cars and signed with the name "Cornelius McLaughlin." The warrant alleges the check was drawn on the National Bank of West Virginia at Wheeling. McLaughlin said he already has paid some of the sum in question and has made arrangements to pay the balance.

As the hearing opened in the title case, Judge Chertoff advised counsel the statute provides such an offense may constitute either a misdemeanor or a felony. He said he intended to treat it as a felony and conduct a preliminary hearing to determine whether there was probable cause to hold the defendant to the Grand Jury.

Atty. W. S. Foulks, who represented McLaughlin, then asked a continuance, but his motion was denied. After the hearing had proceeded for some time, Atty. Foulks asked permission of the court to withdraw. He said he and his client were at odds over the way the case would be presented and the client wished to represent himself.

Judge Chertoff allowed counsel to withdraw, but cautioned McLaughlin of the old legal adage: "He who represents himself has a fool for a client." Because of the nature of the charge, the judge advised McLaughlin to obtain new counsel. Then he continued the case until next Tuesday to allow him to find another attorney.

Steve Germusa, Council's representative, presided in the absence of Burgess Eli Corak, chairman. Next meeting will be Tuesday at 7:30 p. m.

Dealer Faces Check Charge

William McLaughlin, former operator of a Dresden Ave. used car lot, was served today with a warrant alleging he issued a fraudulent $2,300 check on a Wheeling bank.

The warrant was served by Deputy James P. Miller of Columbiana County for the Ohio County sheriff's office at Wheeling as McLaughlin walked out of Municipal Court following a parting of the ways with his counsel in a hearing before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

McLaughlin is charged in the local court with having sold an auto to a Shadyside Ave. man without delivering a certificate of title in the time required by law.

The Ohio County affidavit alleges McLaughlin "forged and uttered" a $2,300 check Feb. 5, made payable to Bill McLaughlin Used Cars and signed with the name "Cornelius McLaughlin." The warrant alleges the check was drawn on the National Bank of West Virginia at Wheeling. McLaughlin said he already has paid some of the sum in question and has made arrangements to pay the balance.

As the hearing opened in the title case, Judge Chertoff advised counsel the statute provides such an offense may constitute either a misdemeanor or a felony. He said he intended to treat it as a felony and conduct a preliminary hearing to determine whether there was probable cause to hold the defendant to the Grand Jury.

Atty. W. S. Foulks, who represented McLaughlin, then asked a continuance, but his motion was denied. After the hearing had proceeded for some time, Atty. Foulks asked permission of the court to withdraw. He said he and his client were at odds over the way the case would be presented and the client wished to represent himself.

Judge Chertoff allowed counsel to withdraw, but cautioned McLaughlin of the old legal adage: "He who represents himself has a fool for a client." Because of the nature of the charge, the judge advised McLaughlin to obtain new counsel. Then he continued the case until next Tuesday to allow him to find another attorney.

County School System To Use Psychologist

LISBON—The Columbiana County Board of Education Tuesday evening employed Hubert Lawrence of Niles as school psychologist under a two-year contract.

He will work 11 months each year, receiving $7,800 next term and $7,950 for the second with $600 yearly allowance for traveling expenses. He will serve the 14 schools in the 5 districts.

He was graduated from Kent State University with a bachelor of science degree in education in 1940 and received his master's degree from Westminster College in 1956. He interned in the Niles schools as guidance director and psychologist at the junior high level and also taught English, history, physical education and health. He is married and has a 13-year-old son. A member of the United Presbyterian Church and Masonic orders, he will begin his work in the county Aug. 1.

The board adopted a policy for public participation at meetings. In an important issue, each side will be given 20 minutes for presentations, which must be factual, relavent and not personal. If it becomes such, the president of the board will immediately stop the speaker. No tape recorders or cameras will be permitted in the meetings unless permission is secured from the board. For requests or other matters, the time limit will be 10 minutes, the board agreed.

The board apparently was looking ahead to possible discussions on consolidation moves, when a large number of spectators are present.

The Franklin local board at Summitville requested that the county board conduct a survey of the district schools and a similar request is expected from the Southern Local Board in reference to consolidation of the school area.

The board authorized four weeks vacation for Mrs. Marilyn Solak, high school consultant, who will attend classes at Western Reserve University in Cleveland for six weeks in furthering her education. She will thus lose only two weeks salary.

Policies on vacations and leaves of absence for education study were discussed by the board but no final action was taken.

Lorin Ruff, elementary consultant, explained the textbooks the teachers' study group recommended for all the county schools, when they are purchased. The board agreed with the recommendations. Thus, each school will eventually have the same textbooks.

The board authorized the clerk, Supt. James L. McBride, to contact county commissioners for new office space for the psychologist. At present, there are only three small rooms and four and sometimes five employes work in the offices. Atty. Donald Elliott, president, presided.

The next meeting will be Tuesday, July 12, at 8 p. m.

VFW Post Enrolls 3 New Members

Three new members were received into the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 66 Tuesday night. They are Robert D. Clutter, Newell Burchett and Robert J. Stoffel, all of East Liverpool.

Sherwood Robinson, commander, announced he will head a delegation to the department convention at Toledo June 23-26.

It was reported Nick Turkaly, post youth activities chairman, will accompany the state marbles champion to the national tournament next Wednesday through June 26 at the National VFW Home at Eaton Rapids, Mich.

A report was heard on the Poppy Day sale held last month.

It was announced five men will receive national aide de camp awards for helping the post attain 100 per cent membership goal. The quota was 544.

The men were chosen for the award, presented by the national commander, for having obtained the most members and working to attain the goal. They are Robinson, Turkaly, Joseph Torrence, Jim Rose and Harry Simpson.

Voters Detach Third Section From Village

MEDINA, Ohio (AP) — Voters have detached a third section from Brunswick Village in Medina County. Residents in the area voted 171-60 Tuesday to secede. The action cut another 1,900 acres from the dwindling village, reducing it to eight square miles.

When it was first incorporated as a village six months ago, Brunswick covered the entire former township area of 25 square miles.

Elected Moderator

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP)—Dr. E. Hoyt Kerr, pastor of Mount Vernon First Presbyterian Church, was elected moderator of the Ohio Synod of the United Presbyterian Church of the U.S.A. Tuesday. Marion Marover, a layman and church elder from Marion, was named vice moderator. About 750 delegates representing 713 churches are in a four-day annual session concluding Friday.

Injured Fatally

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Gratton Haslip Sink, 66, of suburban Englewood, was injured fatally Tuesday when his car jumped a curb and crashed into a utility pole on a downtown Dayton street.

Murder Sentences Of 2 Slayers Commuted

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov Michael V. DiSalle has commuted the first-degree murder sentences of two more slayers serving life sentences to second-degree murder, making them eligible for parole. Granted executive clemency were Clarence Shamblin, 56, of Canton—convicted of fatally shooting Patrolman Joseph Lauer in 1928 while robbing a Canton filling station—and James Agazzie, 61, of Cleveland — convicted of killing Mrs. Geraldine Johnson in 1932 during a robbery in Cleveland.

DiSalle denied similar clemency to Milton Henson, 62, of Butler County, and Charles Menges, 50, of Hamilton County, both serving life terms for first-degree murder.

All 88 Ohio Counties Reimbursed By State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state has reimbursed all 88 Ohio counties a total of $1,077,801 for expenses in the prosecution of criminals and their transportation to prison in less than a year, State Auditor Jame A. Rhodes reports.

Included in the distributions were $716,000 paid to counties last August after the Legislature ordered a clear-up of backlog claims dating from 1942. Another $361,000 has been distributed from a $450,000 appropriation. Final payments will be made after the end of the bookkeeping year June 30.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Thighs Can Be Slim And Shapely

How many times in a day do you sit down and rise from a chair? Routinely using the "youth" muscles of the thighs in this everyday movement amounts to scientific calisthenics.

By Ida Jean Kain

Practice makes sitting down, touch the front of the chair seat with the back of one leg, bend both knees and use the powerful thigh muscles to lower yourself into the chair. Keep your back in a lovely straight line, parallel to the chair back. Never lead with your derriere! It's easier to practice this in a straight chair, one with arms.

Now rise from the chair. Did you help yourself by bracing with your arms? Try it again, this time force the thigh muscles to take the action, again keeping your back beautifully straight. That's streamlining exercise.

SINCE THE muscles along the inner side of the thighline are weak in women, they tend toward flabbiness. Also, we also tend to accumulate fatty pads along the outside of the upper part of the thighs.

Figures prove that certain characteristic contours stem from the limbs of the family tree and the normal variations in fat distribution are inherited. Even so, we do not inherit flabby muscles or overweight, and the shape of the thighs depends largely on muscle tone and weight. Thighs definitely can be made shapely.

Movement: Raise right leg sidewards about 12 inches in air, then bring the under leg up to meet it, and hold for a second — to a slow count of six, counting out loud, then lower. This action tones the inner thigh border of the lower leg. Repeat exercise 3 to 6 times, change sides and repeat.

This slapping exercise stimulates circulation:

Position: Lying on back on floor, arms straight out at sides, knees flexed, feet together...held off floor to get a better "slap" on thighs.

Movement: Separate the knees about five or so inches, then bring them together with a smart slap. Slap-slap-slap. Start with 25 counts and gradually work up to as many as you desire.

THIS CIRCLING motion reaches all the thigh muscles:

Movement: Move upper leg in wide circles from hip. Circle six times. Try to pull toes toward instep and point with heel...this puts pull on inner thigh muscles. Repeat making 6 to 12 circles. Circle in opposite direction. Relax. Change sides and circle with other leg.

6 Tons Of Food Given To Needy

LISBON — Over 6¼ tons of surplus food was distributed in June in Columbiana Countys program for the needy, according to Robert Bycroft, county welfare director.

A breakdown of the distrbiution at the four points — Columbiana warehouse, Salem City Building, Wellsville City Building and East Liverpool Central Fire Station shows:

823 pounds of rice, 1,093 of dried milk, 3,270 of corn meal, 5,340 of flour, 851 of dried eggs and 1,138 of lard for a total of 12,515 pounds.

Some 422 families received food for 1,117 persons. There were 603 families certified, consisting of 1,789 persons, Bycroft said.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

White House Conference Reviewed

By now, many of you have read or heard about some or all the published proceedings of the White House Conference on Children and Youth. As one of the 7,000 invited delegates, and also as a representative of the press, I want to tell you of a few of my impressions. One easily sensed that this conference was composed of a group of highly dedicated people, representing all types of persons directly or indirectly concerned with the education and welfare of children. There was a generous sprinkling of religious leaders of the various faiths and denominations among the speakers at the assemblies and forums and in the smaller work groups.

By Garry Meyer.

EVERY DELEGATE was assigned to a work group of 30-odd persons, who met 2½ hours daily during the week of the conference. These work groups were run so democratically that every person had an opportunity to express some of his views.

In every group was a noticeable scattering of youths. (Altogether there were 1,700 of them.) These youths in the work groups spoke freely and forcefully and what they said was listened to with great respect by their elders. Also there were 500 delegates from foreign countries.

Having attended several earlier White House Conferences, I was struck with hearing a new term at this conference — "affluent society". (This term means that too much money and too many material things are a handicap to children.)

—:—

NOWHERE DID I hear any question raised about the long-prevailing philosophy and practice of excessive permissiveness by parents with children in their early years, and its relation to multi-problem homes or juvenile delinquency. I did, however, read a referenre to this in a news item in the Washington Star.

Referring to a work group on very young children, the story said:

"They were trying to get together on recommendations to present to the whole conference. A South Carolina pediatrician stood up and offered this one:

"Pre-school behavior problems, caused chiefly by lack of discipline, lead to juvenile delinquency. Therefore we recommend furnishing controlled and reasonable discipline with an occasional gluteal erythema, or spanking. . . .'

"The doc got some support from other pediatricians, but the resolution failed."

IN THE WORK group on multi-problem families, in which I participated, I wanted to offer a similar resolution but desisted, knowing well it wouldn't carry. Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Thighs Can Be Slim And Shapely

How many times in a day do you sit down and rise from a chair? Routinely using the "youth" muscles of the thighs in this everyday movement amounts to scientific calisthenics.

By Ida Jean Kain

Practice makes sitting down, touch the front of the chair seat with the back of one leg, bend both knees and use the powerful thigh muscles to lower yourself into the chair. Keep your back in a lovely straight line, parallel to the chair back. Never lead with your derriere! It's easier to practice this in a straight chair, one with arms.

Now rise from the chair. Did you help yourself by bracing with your arms? Try it again, this time force the thigh muscles to take the action, again keeping your back beautifully straight. That's streamlining exercise.

SINCE THE muscles along the inner side of the thighline are weak in women, they tend toward flabbiness. Also, we also tend to accumulate fatty pads along the outside of the upper part of the thighs.

Figures prove that certain characteristic contours stem from the limbs of the family tree and the normal variations in fat distribution are inherited. Even so, we do not inherit flabby muscles or overweight, and the shape of the thighs depends largely on muscle tone and weight. Thighs definitely can be made shapely.

Precision calisthenics, plus beautiful body movements, are the means of re-shaping. This first exercise adds bracing tone to the muscles on inner thighline:

Movement: Raise right leg sidewards about 12 inches in air, then bring the under leg up to meet it, and hold for a second — to a slow count of six, counting out loud, then lower. This action tones the inner thigh border of the lower leg. Repeat exercise 3 to 6 times, change sides and repeat.

This slapping exercise stimulates circulation:

Position: Lying on back on floor, arms straight out at sides, knees flexed, feet together...held off floor to get a better "slap" on thighs.

Movement: Separate the knees about five or so inches, then bring them together with a smart slap. Slap-slap-slap. Start with 25 counts and gradually work up to as many as you desire.

THIS CIRCLING motion reaches all the thigh muscles:

Movement: Move upper leg in wide circles from hip. Circle six times. Try to pull toes toward instep and point with heel...this puts pull on inner thigh muscles. Repeat making 6 to 12 circles. Circle in opposite direction. Relax. Change sides and circle with other leg.

6 Tons Of Food Given To Needy

LISBON — Over 6¼ tons of surplus food was distributed in June in Columbiana Countys program for the needy, according to Robert Bycroft, county welfare director.

A breakdown of the distrbiution at the four points — Columbiana warehouse, Salem City Building, Wellsville City Building and East Liverpool Central Fire Station shows:

823 pounds of rice, 1,093 of dried milk, 3,270 of corn meal, 5,340 of flour, 851 of dried eggs and 1,138 of lard for a total of 12,515 pounds.

Some 422 families received food for 1,117 persons. There were 603 families certified, consisting of 1,789 persons, Bycroft said.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

White House Conference Reviewed

By now, many of you have read or heard about some or all the published proceedings of the White House Conference on Children and Youth. As one of the 7,000 invited delegates, and also as a representative of the press, I want to tell you of a few of my impressions. One easily sensed that this conference was composed of a group of highly dedicated people, representing all types of persons directly or indirectly concerned with the education and welfare of children. There was a generous sprinkling of religious leaders of the various faiths and denominations among the speakers at the assemblies and forums and in the smaller work groups.

By Garry Meyer.

EVERY DELEGATE was assigned to a work group of 30-odd persons, who met 2½ hours daily during the week of the conference. These work groups were run so democratically that every person had an opportunity to express some of his views.

In every group was a noticeable scattering of youths. (Altogether there were 1,700 of them.) These youths in the work groups spoke freely and forcefully and what they said was listened to with great respect by their elders. Also there were 500 delegates from foreign countries.

Having attended several earlier White House Conferences, I was struck with hearing a new term at this conference — "affluent society". (This term means that too much money and too many material things are a handicap to children.)

—:—

NOWHERE DID I hear any question raised about the long-prevailing philosophy and practice of excessive permissiveness by parents with children in their early years, and its relation to multi-problem homes or juvenile delinquency. I did, however, read a referenre to this in a news item in the Washington Star.

Referring to a work group on very young children, the story said:

"They were trying to get together on recommendations to present to the whole conference. A South Carolina pediatrician stood up and offered this one:

"Pre-school behavior problems, caused chiefly by lack of discipline, lead to juvenile delinquency. Therefore we recommend furnishing controlled and reasonable discipline with an occasional gluteal erythema, or spanking. . . .'

"The doc got some support from other pediatricians, but the resolution failed."

IN THE WORK group on multi-problem families, in which I participated, I wanted to offer a similar resolution but desisted, knowing well it wouldn't carry. I would guess this to be true with almost any such diversified group of 30 child experts you could get together anywhere. Perhaps ten years hence, at the next White House Conference, this won't hold true.

Form Awaited For Lake Land

An entry form is awaited from the Ohio Department of Natural Resources concerning a final settlement of purchase of one of the last properties needed for a proposed state lake at Highlandtown.

Attorneys for Robert B. Thorne of Highlandtown, owner of a 78.27-acre tract for which the Wildlife Division originally offered $12,000, are expected to review the proposed court entry before it submitted to Common Pleas Court.

A jury trial had been slated concerning the price but the state made a further offer which has been given tentative approval by the property owner.

Only nine acres of the land will be under water, but the state seeks the remainder of the property for use as parking areas, boat landings and restroom facilities.

Driver's Defense Tests Credulity, Judge Comments

"You test my imagination," Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff told a motorist today after the driver came up with an explanation of how he came to be arrested Saturday for allegedly pulling his car abreast of another on the East Liverpool-Wellsville "super-road" for an exchange of conversation.

John D. Morrell, 413 College St., drew a fine of $15 and costs on a reckless driving charge filed by the State Highway Patrol as a result of the alleged incident. He pleaded guilty.

Morrell told the court he did not deliberately pull abreast of the other car for conversation. Rather, he said, a passenger in his car was talking with the driver of the other auto as one vehicle passed the other.

What did they say?

"Look out, the State Patrol is behind you," according to Morrell.

Meanwhile, Nick R. Tarnovich, 610 5th St., Wellsville, was fined $10 and costs when he pleaded guilty to speeding 68 miles an hour Monday in a 50-mile zone on the "super-road." He also was cited by the patrol.

Tarnovich said he thought the road was zoned for a 60-mile limit.

"I offered to let the patrolman drive my truck to see for himself it wouldn't go over 60 miles an hour, but he declined," the defendant said. The judge pointed out he still would have been 10 miles over the limit.

Chester Mayor Sets Hearing In Disturbance

A hearing is slated before Mayor Burton Ward of Chester next Wednesday for John Ward, 316 Adolphus St., Chester, on a charge of disturbing the peace.

Ward was bound over Monday to the Hancock County Grand Jury on a charge of felonious assault as a result of a struggle at his home Saturday with Patrolman Clarence Lennens.

An assault and battery charge filed by his wife has been withdrawn by her, but Mayor Ward said he has retained the charge under advisement.

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of Charles (Eddie) Rowley, who left us 11 years ago today, June 15th, 1949:
In a room in our hearts kept for memories,
He is laughing and gay as before.
And we almost expect to see him come through every open door.
Tis then we remember, he's left us, but just for a little while.
Someday beyond the sunset, again we'll see him smile.
(Peggy Wilson)
Sadly missed by his mother, Ethel Rowley, his brothers and sisters, and all who loved him.

Kent Center Sets 2 Courses Here

Because of insufficient registration, only two courses will be offered in the two summer terms of the East Liverpool Center of Kent State University.

Music fundamentals for public school teachers will be offered in the first term, which will begin Tuesday night and continue through July 21. The class will meet each Tuesday and Thursday from 6 to 9 p. m. in the choir room at Westgate School.

University officials said there were not enough interested to offer courses in speech fundamentals and art.

The second term will open July 25 and continue through Aug. 26 with a course in biology being taught each Tuesday and Thursday from 6 to 10 p. m. The class will meet in the high school biology laboratory.

Lack of registration forced cancelation of a planned course in marketing, officials said.

Nursing a nagging hangover as a result of his 22nd birthday celebration Tuesday night, a Dresden Ave. man received a suspended $10 fine as a memento today from Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Union Dues Rebel Head Leads President Bid

ALIQUIPPA — Nick Mamula, president of Steelworkers Local 1211 at Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., was reported leading Tony Vladovich, past president, in the counting of ballots cast in Tuesday's election. He had 3,596 to Vladovich's 1,879.

Some 5,600 to 5,700 of 7,100 votes had been counted this morning. Mamula, head of one of the largest union locals in the country, is leader of the "dues rebels."

Form Awaited For Lake Land

An entry form is awaited from the Ohio Department of Natural Resources concerning a final settlement of purchase of one of the last properties needed for a proposed state lake at Highlandtown.

Attorneys for Robert B. Thorne of Highlandtown, owner of a 78.27-acre tract for which the Wildlife Division originally offered $12,000, are expected to review the proposed court entry before it submitted to Common Pleas Court.

A jury trial had been slated concerning the price but the state made a further offer which has been given tentative approval by the property owner.

Only nine acres of the land will be under water, but the state seeks the remainder of the property for use as parking areas, boat landings and restroom facilities.

Driver's Defense Tests Credulity, Judge Comments

"You test my imagination," Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff told a motorist today after the driver came up with an explanation of how he came to be arrested Saturday for allegedly pulling his car abreast of another on the East Liverpool-Wellsville "super-road" for an exchange of conversation.

John D. Morrell, 413 College St., drew a fine of $15 and costs on a reckless driving charge filed by the State Highway Patrol as a result of the alleged incident. He pleaded guilty.

Morrell told the court he did not deliberately pull abreast of the other car for conversation. Rather, he said, a passenger in his car was talking with the driver of the other auto as one vehicle passed the other.

What did they say?

"Look out, the State Patrol is behind you," according to Morrell.

Meanwhile, Nick R. Tarnovich, 610 5th St., Wellsville, was fined $10 and costs when he pleaded guilty to speeding 68 miles an hour Monday in a 50-mile zone on the "super-road." He also was cited by the patrol.

Tarnovich said he thought the road was zoned for a 60-mile limit.

"I offered to let the patrolman drive my truck to see for himself it wouldn't go over 60 miles an hour, but he declined," the defendant said. The judge pointed out he still would have been 10 miles over the limit.

Chester Mayor Sets Hearing In Disturbance

A hearing is slated before Mayor Burton Ward of Chester next Wednesday for John Ward, 316 Adolphus St., Chester, on a charge of disturbing the peace.

Ward was bound over Monday to the Hancock County Grand Jury on a charge of felonious assault as a result of a struggle at his home Saturday with Patrolman Clarence Lennens.

An assault and battery charge filed by his wife has been withdrawn by her, but Mayor Ward said he has retained the charge under advisement.

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of Charles (Eddie) Rowley, who left us 11 years ago today, June 15th, 1949.
In a room in our hearts kept for memories,
He is laughing and gay as before.
And we almost expect to see him come through every open door,
Tis then we remember, he's left us, but just for a little while.
Someday beyond the sunset, again we'll see him smile.
(Peggy Wilson)
Sadly missed by his mother, Ethel Rowley, his brothers and sisters, and all who loved him.

DOWNTOWN FARM

The man who said you can't have a lawn, orchard, garden, etc., and still be in a residential down town neighborhood WAS WRONG, but to get this the owner had to own 3 - 30 foot lots on VINE ST., and build a 3 bedroom, 2 story home with a new gas furnace, aluminum siding, and many extras on the center lot then fence-in one of the remaining lots for children. There are many varieties of trees, shrubs, flowers, and even a small asparagus patch and a garden on the lot. If you want a farm and a home with a lot of room in town for $12,900.00 make an appointment to see it now.

DOWNTOWN FARM

The man who said you can't have a lawn, orchard, garden, etc., and still be in a residential down town neighborhood WAS WRONG, but to get this the owner had to own 3 - 30 foot lots on VINE ST., and build a 3 bedroom, 2 story home with a new gas furnace, aluminum siding, and many extras on the center lot then fence-in one of the remaining lots for children. There are many varieties of trees, shrubs, flowers, and even a small asparagus patch and a garden on the lot. If you want a farm and a home with a lot of room in town for $12,900.00 make an appointment to see it now.

Porto-Smyda Nuptial Held At Midland Church June 4

White carnations topped the prayer book carried by Miss Bonita Smyda, daughter of Mrs. John Smyda of Fairview, Ohio Township, when she became the bride of Salvatore Porto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Porto of Midland View, in the Presentation Catholic Church in Midland June 4.

Fr. John B. Corbett read the double-ring rites before the altar decked with palms, ferns and cibotiums. Nuptial High Mass followed.

Mrs. Elmer Angellone of Midland accompanied the Boys Choir during Mass.

The bride, give in marriage by her brother, John W. Smyda of Fairview, wore a floor - length frock of eyelet embroidered organdy with square neck reappliqued with individual rose motifs. The fitted bodice and long sleeves, featuring cutwork embroidery over net, enhanced the bouffant skirt of six tiers ending in a chapel sweep.

Her tiered shoulder veil of imported illusion was gathered from a pearl-trimmd crown. The carnations on the prayerbook she carried were interspersed with stephanotis and surrounded by bridal streamers. All the familiar traditions were observed. Her jewelry was a set of matching necklace and earrings, a gift of the bridegroom.

Following Mass, the bride placed a bouquet of white carnations of the altar of the Blessed Mother.

Mrs. John Smyda served her sister-in-law as matron of honor and wore a gown of white eyelet over aqua taffeta. The scoop neckline and fitted bodice enhanced the full skirt. An aqua petal headress held her short matching veil. She carried a basket of mixed summer flowers.

Sam Prodonovich of Midland Heights was best man and Philip Porto, brother of the bridegroom, ushered.

A white gold cross was the bride's gift to her matron of honor.

Mrs. Smyda wore a Navy blue eyelet dress with matching satin trim. Mrs. Porto chose a gown of light blue lace. Both wore corsages of white rosebuds.

A wedding dinner for 30 guests followed in the St. Anthony Club in Midland. The bride's mother was hostess to 250 guests at a reception held there in the evening.

A three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple and trimmed with pink rosebuds and wedding bells centered the bridal table adorned with a garland of pink roses, lilies-of-the-valley and white net. Satin streamers were attached to the miniature bridal pair decorating the table.

Misses Helen and Carol Holava, Mrs. Joseph Holava and Mrs. Anne Feydo served as aides. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Castellano assisted.

The principals are graduates of Midland High School. The bride is employed at the Midland branch of the Beaver Trust Co. Her husband is employed by the Crucible Steel Co. in Midland.

The couple will be at home in a newly furnished apartment on Virginia Ave., Midland, following a honeymoon in the Catskills.

Escapes Punishment

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Except for a reprimand already received, Police Capt. Stephen N. Birich will not be punished by the city administration for irregularities in handling city jail prisoners, Mayor Frank R. Franko said. The FBI had investigated Birich, a 27-year veteran of the force, for possible violation of prisoners' civil rights by keeping them jailed beyond their proper release time.
